Henry, Mann And Galloway Take Golf Honors Sunday

H. C. "Heinie" Henry broke into the big show Sunday afternoon on the local links by turning in a score of 84 or 18 holes, or a net of 66 with handicap deducted.

Heinie was lead-off man in the three high shooters of the afternoon dividing honors with Paul Galloway, who rambled around the course 37-74, actual, or 68, handicap considered. Wm. Mann of New Madrid was a close contender with a net medal score of 69 for the afternoon.

A similar match is being arranged for next Sunday evening. Handicaps determined from match play tournament scores and from week-day rounds tend to level up any differences in ability between expert and "dub" golfers.

First column gives handicap, second medal score:

Scores of Sunday play:
L. R. Bowman 5 73
L. M. Stallcup 6 74
M. Phillips 6 82

REV. RUDLOFF TO SERVE ORRICK, MO., CONGREGATION

Orrick, Mo., August 27.—Rev. A. C. Rudloff, formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church of Sikeston, will be the pastor of the Baptist church here.

Rev. Rudloff comes highly recommended, having done wonderful work at Sikeston. During his two and a half years there, he netted that church a little over two hundred additions.

He is a man 25 years old, married and they have one child. Rev. and Mrs. Rudloff will live at Liberty and plan to live at Orrick as soon as William Jewell school term is over.

Rev. Rudloff is a product of the Will Mayfield Junior College at Marble Hill. He now enters William Jewell to finish Junior and Senior terms, after which he plans to finish his ministerial education at Louisville, Ky.

He is a very refined gentleman, has a splendid delivery and displays wonderful Bible knowledge. In fact, he shows talent that the country churches rarely enjoy.

All who heard him last Sunday pronounced him as a real find for the Baptist church. He is the type that draws the big crowds.

If it were not for the fact that Rev. Rudloff is seeking higher ground by schooling himself, no small church could engage him. The city churches would grab him.

The people of Orrick and especially of the Baptist congregation, feel that they are fortunate in getting a big man, even though for a short while.—Orrick Times.

C'STON NAZARENE CHURCH CONDUCTS TENT MEETING

Charleston, August 27.—A tent meeting is now being conducted in this city by the members of the Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. J. C. Frost of Alabama, a noted evangelist of the church and his singer and choir leader, Rev. Earl Beal of Fredericktown are here conducting the meeting.

D. A. R. MEETING SATURDAY

The D. A. R. will meet Saturday, September 5, at the home of Mrs. Kate Harris, with Mrs. Harris and Misses Lydia and Audrey Chaney hostesses.

Members will answer roll call by notes on their summer vacation.

Mrs. Wallace Applegate will be leader of the program for the afternoon.

WESTWAY CLUB TO MEET

The Westway Club of the Woman's Benefit Association will meet at the home of Mrs. Roy Waggoner on Greer Avenue, Thursday afternoon, September 3, at 2 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Excelsior Springs—Paved streets in city being repaired.

Ladies' full-fashioned, chiffon hosiery, 42 and 45 gauge, silk picot top, Buckner-Ragsdale's Bargain Basement. Per pair 69c.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Moll and children of Cairo and Miss Hyacinth Sheppard spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bede Stepps of near New Madrid.

ARNOLD ROTH RESIGNS FROM PURINA COMPANY: HAS INSURANCE CONTRACT

Arnold Roth, who for the past five years has ably represented Purina Mills in Southeast Missouri, has resigned from this position to become special agent for the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States. This is one of the largest and oldest companies of the country being 72 years old and having over seven billion dollars insurance written. During July 1930 claims were paid, for a total of $5,787,837, 99.8 per cent of these were paid within one day. Another fine thing in these times, states Mr. Roth, is that the company pays more to living policy holders through dividends, endowments, disability claims and annuities, than to beneficiaries. The Equitable has more annuities outstanding and pays more in such annual incomes than any two insurance companies.

Mr. Roth will also represent the Fidelity Investment Association, which offers a safe and systematic plan of building incomes under a guaranteed return. Fidelity has gradually grown until today it is the largest financial institution in the United States devoted exclusively to the building of incomes.

Mr. Roth feels that with the representation of these two outstanding companies in their respective fields, he will be able to be of real service to this section of the country.

Ray S. Duncan of Jackson, who for the past several years has represented the Purina Company in that city and area will move his family to Sikeston in the near future to assume the position vacated by the resignation of Mr. Roth.

NAZARENE CHURCH ASSEMBLY TO BE HELD IN POPLAR BLUFF SEPTEMBER 9 TO 12

Poplar Bluff, August 28.—The annual assembly of the Nazarene Church of Missouri will be held in Poplar Bluff, September 9-12. More than 200 delegates are expected at the assembly and the Poplar Bluff Chamber of Commerce is making final arrangements to entertain the visitors while they are in this city.

Various churches of the city are assisting in the arrangements for securing lodging for the visiting delegates, but to date only 20 rooms have been pledged. Secretary H. S. Bloodworth, of the Chamber of Commerce, stated today that it was important that at least 100 rooms be pledged in order to take care of the visiting delegates.

Officers of the organization which will hold their annual meeting at Poplar Bluff are: J. W. Roach of Piedmont, Supt.; Erna Patterson of Malden, Secretary; and A. A. Patterson of Malden, Treasurer.

The Poplar Bluff Chamber of Commerce extended the convention an invitation to hold their next assembly at Poplar Bluff and at a meeting of the advisory board in St. Louis on March 31, this year, it was unanimously voted to hold their next assembly here.

LEWIS CONLEY SUFFERS BROKEN ARM SATURDAY

Lewis Conley, soda fountain expert at Galloway's and voted the most popular boy in high school last term, suffered a broken left arm Saturday afternoon. Conley and another lad were chasing one another back of the Piggly Wiggly store when Conley slipped and fell. The break affected the small bone in the left arm.

LACK OF MATERIAL HALTS WORK ON HIGHWAY BUILDINGS

Part of the John Epple Construction Company force was temporarily laid off Wednesday evening, pending arrival of steel roof trusses for the Highway garage building, and stone for the office structure.

Miss Lucille Stubblefield has returned from a visit in Paducah, Ky. Miss Ann Kirby of Vanduser, who was operated on for appendicitis Sunday, August 16, is recovering rapidly and is expected to leave the hospital Wednesday.

Mrs. Noah Cox of near Sikeston underwent a successful operation for appendicitis Saturday at St. Francis Hospital, Cape Girardeau, with Dr. Stanley J. Tilghman operating. The patient is convalescing nicely.

JUST A PARAGRAPH

On our return to Sikeston from North Missouri, we hear a good deal of talk about the doings of a man recently located in the city. About certain drunken sprees, crap shooting forays, insults, and other unseemly conduct. Then threats of suits, beatings, etc. The editor knows nothing of the talk, but in case developments occur, they will be printed in The Standard. We believe 98 or 99 per cent of the women are clean, and are strongly in favor of drastic punishment for men who think most women are but a plaything.

4 HELD AFTER SIKESTON MAN MAKES CHARGE

Cape Girardeau, August 31.—Two Cape Girardeau young men, a Cape Girardeau woman and a former Bloomfield man were being held in jail today at Benton facing charges of highway robbery following an alleged holdup on Highway 61 south of here early today.

The four are Howard Henson, Alberta Waters and Ellis Childs of Cape Girardeau and Jack Fowler of Bloomfield and Cape Girardeau. All were arrested here today.

According to information given officers by Dr. Stanley J. Tilghman, the victim, the group took his purse from him while he was enroute from Cape Girardeau to Sikeston. Although Dr. Tilghman could not be reached today by The Missourian, it is understood he was here to see a patient, and had employed a taxicab to take him back to Sikeston about midnight.

Childs was driving the taxicab, and for company on the trip to Sikeston, he took along Henson, the Waters woman and Fowler, it is alleged. According to the information given officers, Henson and Fowler engaged in an altercation along the way, and the physician lost his pocketbook before the group reached Sikeston. No articles were taken off him, it was said. Fowler was let out of the machine some place along the way, before the cab reached Sikeston, but all are alleged to have been in the machine at the time of the alleged theft.

Sheriff Tom Scott, and Constable Brown Jewell, the latter of Sikeston, were advised of the alleged robbery and came to Cape Girardeau at once. At 4 a. m. today, they, with Captain Charles Schaefer and Patrolman J. N. Wilson, of Cape Girardeau, found Henson and the woman at a building at Frederick and Themis streets, and soon the other two were apprehended.

All face charges of highway robbery, and today had not yet made bond for their liberty from the Scott County jail. The robbery is said to have been staged south of Kelso.

Dr. Tilghman, a physician and surgeon, has not been at Sikeston long, going there July 1 from Independence, Kan. It was said at his office at Sikeston today that he was not carrying a large sum of money.

The officers found, beside Henson's bed when he was arrested today, a knife, a pair of brass knuckles and a steel slug, they said. He and Alberta Waters now have an appealed case pending in Common Pleas Court, that case growing out of a statutory charge.—Cape Missourian.

Mrs. Roy Colbert and son, of St. Louis is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dover. Mr. Colbert spent Sunday with his family.

Ladies' full-fashioned, chiffon hosiery, 42 and 45 gauge, silk picot top, Buckner-Ragsdale's Bargain Basement. Per pair 69c.

Carroll Sutton left Saturday afternoon for Higginsville, Mo., where he will visit Sam Schooling, a schoolmate, for a few days. From there he will go to Fayette, where he is a student at Central College.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hart of Harrisburg, Ill., and daughter, Mrs. John Mitchell of Los Angeles, Cal., were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Wilbur of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Hart returned home Sunday afternoon, while Mrs. Mitchell remained in this city for a few days' visit with the C. E. Mitchell family.

BYSTANDERS SHOWERED WITH CURRENCY AS TRAIN STRIKES ARMORED TRUCK

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Bank notes fluttered and silver dollars rained from the skies today when a freight train crashed into an armored money truck, killing two men and injuring one critically.

The truck, owned by the Brinks Express Company, split open, sending a shower of money down on startled bystanders, who immediately started a scramble for it. Several packages of bills were ground under the wheels of the locomotive, drawing a Baltimore and Ohio train.

Citizens made away with an unknown amount of the scattered cash before police gathered up the rest in baskets. Officials did not know how much money had been lost. Police estimated that they recovered several thousand dollars.

DUNCAN FAMILY HOLDS REUNION HERE SUNDAY

Children of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Duncan of Daniel Street, this city, spent Sunday visiting here. Visitors included: Mr. and Mrs. Andy Duncan of Tampico, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duncan and children, Frank, Jr., and Shirley Ann, of Seymour, Ind., Mrs. Millicent Peters of Vandalia, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Duncan and children, Rodney and Eugene, of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Duncan and Marion, Jr., of Springfield, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Duncan, Sikeston, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Duncan and daughters, Gwendolyn and Ester, also of Sikeston.

AUXILIARY MEETING

The Auxiliary of the American Legion will have their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Gus Martin on Tuesday evening instead of Wednesday evening. This is to be a farewell meeting for Mrs. C. E. Brenton, so all members are urged to be present.

ENJOY WATERMELON FEAST

A number of Sikeston boys and girls enjoyed a watermelon supper near Benton last Thursday night. Melons they claim, were not "lifted" or "borrowed" from roadside patches, but were furnished by Tom Simpson. Those who attended the affair include: Gladys Conley, Clara Trousdale, Arabelle Blackburn, Edna Mount, Dessie Hydrick, Nadine Sellards, Mary Louise Vollmer of Festus, Berniece Farris, Mary Elizabeth La Grange of Chaffee, Gladys Swinney, Paul Higgins, Walter Ancell, Willard Mount, John Kruse, Lynn Sutton, T. B. Dudley, Jr., Tom Simpson and Hugh Stewart.

Parties For the Brentons

The Gleaners Class and the Russell-Bradley Missionary Society of the Methodist church, entertained with a very delightful farewell party for Mrs. C. E. Brenton, Friday evening in the Methodist church basement. The two Societies presented Mrs. Brenton with a lovely desk fountain pen set.

The stewards of the church entertained C. E. Brenton the same evening with a dinner at the Hotel Marshall.

On Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Hess, the following organizations will entertain with a tea complimenting Mrs. Brenton: The Woman's Club, the D. A. R. Chapter, W. C. T. U., Auxiliary of the American Legion. A cordial invitation is extended Mrs. Brenton's friends to attend. The hours are from 3 till 5.

Mrs. C. D. Matthews, Jr., entertained at bridge Monday afternoon.

Here's a contrast that is not likely to become very pleasant: Five months ago donations to help feed the more unfortunate of this community were received with a hearty welcome. Now we can vote bonds—and within another five months the call will go out again for help from the Red Cross or any other welfare organization that will be fool enough to help those who fail to help themselves by economizing.

Comedy 'Oh, Professor,' Will Feature Beautiful Chorus

Just what the only unmarried girl-shy but willing college professor on the campus will do under certain conditions is one of the amusing incidents in "Oh! Professor", musical comedy to be presented in the high school gym-auditorium Wednesday evening, auspices of the local Lions Club. Just what the audience will do when a dozen or more chorus girls appear in the opening number and subsequent choruses is not so much of a problem. Chorus girls have a way of "clicking" with audiences.

The story goes that one college lad, Steve Crandall, has an inferiority complex as far as women are concerned. His roommate, Bob Davis, tries to help him out by sending for his brother, Dave, who dolls up in a Spanish dancing costume "just to fool the boys".

Bob's sister shows up at the wrong moment also, impersonating beautiful Rita May, the Spanish show girl and Steve is gradually drawn into an awful mess with his wimmin'.

The professor is bowled over also, but finally finds modern girls a bit too strenuous, and withdraws in favor of a more matronly, "quiet" type. What happens to Helen, Steve Crandall's real girl, to girl-shy Steve, and to the Professor and Bob, makes an interesting climax to an unusually clever college comedy sketch.

The cast includes the following:

Steve Crandall, bashful college boy

.....Louis Walker

Bob Davis, his roommate

.....Art Wallhausen

Dave Davis, Bob's brother

.....Bob Nicholson

Professor Bangs, Sissy Professor

Washington, August 28.—The agriculture department announced today that farmers intend to plant 12 per cent less winter wheat next fall than was harvested this year.

HUBERT BOYER IN MINOR CRACKUP SUNDAY

Hubert Boyer, pilot and Hildreth Dill escaped injury Sunday afternoon when the new plane nosed over into a fence while landing. The prop was cracked and one wing slightly damaged. Boyer attributed the accident to a sudden, unexpected cross wind.

AUTO WRECKS POPCORN STAND SUNDAY NIGHT

The Snowflake popcorn stand operated by Marshall Cox on Front street was temporarily wrecked Sunday night, when a car gliding in to the curb struck a protruding corner, smashed a glass panel and otherwise damaged the framework. Repairs were made Monday morning and by nightfall young Schuppert, operator, was again turning out sacksful of tasty corn.

Mrs. E. C. Matthews and children, Miss Olga and Edward, are expected home Wednesday from an extended visit in California.

Mrs. Calvin Greer of 516 North Kingshighway is again at home from a visit this summer with her sister in Los Angeles, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bowman, Jr., of Montgomery, Ala., came in Sunday evening for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bowman, Sr.

H. C. Blanton left for Bay City, Mich., Saturday, where he will join his family. They expect to arrive in Sikeston Wednesday afternoon.

Walter Kendall, chief of police, brought to The Standard office Thursday morning eight peaches that tipped the scales at slightly over six pounds. The smallest one measured 10½ inches in circumference, while the largest measured 12 inches. They were sprouts that came up from seed thrown out in the back yard. They were extra fine.

Maxine and Pauline Husher gave a party Friday night in honor of their cousins, Max and Dale Tinder, of Poplar Bluff. The guests were Lillian Feltner, Lloyette Feltner, Mary E. Montgomery, Charline Gardner, June Marshall, Dixie Lee Sander, Helen Johnson, Freda Lankford, Verna Dubois, Lela Story, Billy Gardner, Murray Lynn Farris, Buddy Lankford, Bruce Lewis, Merrill McKinney, Ben F. Carroll, Fred Jones, Layton Finley and Dale and Max Tinder. Games were played and refreshments served.

WOOD MILL ACCIDENT ENDS IN DEATH

James Shipley, 29 years old, workman in a lumber mill at New Madrid, died in the Emergency Hospital Sunday noon from injuries received last Thursday when a piece of wood crashed through Shipley's left leg. Blood poisoning developed rapidly and was the direct cause of death.

The body was prepared for burial at the Welsh Undertaking Parlor and removed to Dyersburg, Tenn., Sunday evening in the Welsh ambulance. Services were to be conducted at Miston, Tenn., about 15 miles from Dyersburg, Monday afternoon with interment in Friendship Cemetery.

Shipley is survived by an estranged wife and twins, two years old, all of Miston.

FUCHS WINS $7500 SLANDER SUIT

A jury in Circuit Court Saturday found in favor of the defendant in the case of Bob Grigsby vs. Ed Fuchs, mayor of Sikeston, alleging slander and asking for damages of $7500. Roger Bailey represented Fuchs and Milo Gresham handled the case for Mr. Grigsby.

Grigsby, farmer near Miner Switch, was formerly a tenant on one of the Fuchs farms. A difference of opinion arose over division of crops. During the altercation, Grigsby claims, Fuchs called him a "damned thief" and slander proceedings were filed.

The many friends of Mrs. Emma Kendall will be pleased to hear that she is improving.

Mrs. H. J. Dudley of St. Charles is visiting her sons, Harry E. Dudley and family, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Malone, who have been visiting in Detroit, Mich., have returned home. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Malone, who have been living in Detroit, came with them and will make their home in Cape Girardeau.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Phillips and son, E. L. Phillips, all of Trenton, Mo., visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Phillips of this city. The out-of-town visitors accompanied the local family on a camping trip to Current River at Doniphan, where Mr. Phillips maintains membership in a clubhouse.

From Our Exchanges

Had a hard time explaining things to our wife last week when some anonymous contributor sent in a piece of poetry. The fact that the envelope was addressed to the office instead of to the editor, personally, is about all that saved us. The opening line was, "I had such a sweet dream about you, Oh how I wish it was true". Two other portions of the verse were, "I drew you to my beating heart, and it seemed to be we could never part. I whispered to you if we could wed, and you looked at me and nodded your head". We wish these anonymous writers would hand us their copy instead of sending it by mail. Our curiosity is all worked up now as to what age the author of the poetry might be and whether she is good looking. Now if a man wrote it, we'd say the dream was a nightmare.—Shelbina Democrat.

If the Bloomfield Vindicator has its way, Bloomfield may soon get out from under the yoke of a utility company that is supplying power to that city. The Vindicator last week expressed the desire, editorially, that some way could be found before long, whereby something like $15,000 which the city now pays out annually to the utility company, could be kept right at home, instead of being sent away. The Vindicator also expresses the belief that the number of municipally owned plants is destined to grow within the next few years "unless the utility companies lower their rates and are satisfied with smaller profits". No doubt but what Bloomfield could do as well with a municipal plant, as Malden and other Southeast Missouri cities are doing.—Malden Merit.

Our standards of morals are rapidly being adjusted to meet new conditions. One evidence appears at Salem College at Winston Salem, N. C. College authorities have recently issued a bulletin stating that girl students will be permitted to smoke who have their parents' permission. The bulletin says, "smoking is first a home problem". When a staid commonwealth, a stronghold of intolerance a few years ago, makes concessions such as this, we would not be astonished at a Baptist taking communion with a Presbyterian, the Jews eating pork, or the Catholics advocating birth control.—Jackson Cash-Book.

The Gazette is proud of our new postoffice building. All good things come to those who wait, and we've been waiting a long time. It will be a nice home for the new Democratic postmaster who will take charge after the election of Roosevelt as president in 1932.—West Plains Gazette.

We heard one of our hard-boiled Republicans exclaim, "Well, great God!" as he opened his Globe-Democrat last Friday morning. Thinking something had happened to the Lindberghs or that Mabel had secured another Farm Board loan for the wine interests of California, we inquired the why of his consternation, to which he soulfully replied: "Hoover has appointed another commissioner".—Monroe Appeal.

There are only two times in which some merchants' stores are advertised. One is when they are opening them up, and the other is when they are being sold out to satisfy their creditors.—Malden Merit.

A bird with thumbs on its wings is reported by a scientific expedition in Africa. In pre-Volstead days, incautious imbibers in the United States claimed to have seen brindle elephants with green horns, and the like, but prohibition has forced us to give Africa first place as a land of wonders.

The times is coming soon when there will be no guesswork about what a radio broadcasting station puts on the air after complaint has been made of its programs. The Federal Radio Commission is now testing out various types of recording devices which will make verbatim transcripts of programs from stations under investigation for violating radio regulations. The apparatus is portable and records can be made from any receiving set. Then if there is any dispute as to whether or not offensive language or other objectionable features were broadcast, from any station, an exact reproduction can be furnished.—Ex. And they will about get that perfected and we will have television and they will have to get a machine to record pictures that are sent out on the air. Wonder if they will broadcast as many bathing beauty pictures as we see every day in the papers. If they do, the radio will again jump into high popular favor.—Shelbina Democrat.

WASHINGTON DISPLAYED GOOD JUDGMENT IN SELECTING CABINET

Nothing in Washington's whole life gives stronger evidence of his character and ability than the splendid judgment which he displayed in selecting the first Cabinet of the United States.

To the selection of these men he gave the most careful thought, and succeeded in forming a Cabinet which, in the opinion of many, has never been equaled for sheer ability. Washington's first Cabinet consisted of Alexander Hamilton, Secretary of the Treasury; Thomas Jefferson, Secretary of State; Henry Knox, Secretary of War; and Edmund Randolph, Attorney General.

The four nominations were made to the Senate in September, 1789, and they were confirmed without delay.

In selecting his Cabinet, Washington sought for capable and efficient men whose usefulness had stood the test of some experiences in Colonial, State or Continental places. He seems to have been especially desirous of obtaining tried and worthy men to fill the various posts under his control.

There can be no doubt that the claims of friendship played an important part in directing Washington's search for men to assist him. Intimately and confidentially associated with him as these men must be it was very natural that Washington decided finally to make two of the four appointments under consideration from among his personal friends.

The appointments of Hamilton and Knox were determined upon by President Washington easily. Both men were on terms of very close intimacy with the President and both men were very well equipped to fill the posts assigned to them. Associated with him in the Revolution, they had kept up a correspondence with him at intervals ever since.

Randolph, a capable lawyer of the day, seemed to Washington to be a happy choice for the appointment as the first Attorney General, which, incidentally, was then only a part-time position.

The appointment of Jefferson was distinctly the most interesting of the four appointments. John Jay was what might be called a logical candidate to head the country's foreign affairs. According to the best available authority on Jay's life, Washington gave to Jay the choice of "any office he might prefer". And so, at his own request, Jay was named Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. This decision of Jay probably led Washington to the consideration of Thomas Jefferson.

Landing at Norfolk, Va., in November, 1789, Jefferson for the first time heard of his appointment. For over two months following, he hesitated about accepting it. At the renewed and urgent request of Washington, and assured that the public was eager for his acceptance of the position, Jefferson finally gave his consent to take up his new task in New York City on March 22, 1790.

It was not until May, 1790, with Jefferson, Hamilton, Knox and Randolph in New York City, that the first full Cabinet meeting was really held.

In addition to his Cabinet, Washington often consulted with others on important problems facing the Government. He often conferred with the Vice President, John Adams, and Chief Justice Jay, as well as with his Secretaries.

It was not until 1791 that the meetings of Washington and his Secretaries were termed "Cabinet Meetings". In 1792 there were several clear records of such, Thomas Jefferson having left some account of two such meetings. In 1793, the meetings were frequent, especially so after Washington's arrival in Philadelphia on April 17. The most notable of these was the meeting of April 19, at which the issuance of the so-called Neutrality Proclamation was unanimously agreed upon. Within a month from that time Jefferson referred to the meetings of the advisors as occurring "almost every day".

The crisis with France in 1793 enforced the necessity of frequent meetings on the part of the President's best qualified advisors.

To trace in detail the events of Washington's administration would be to write the history of the country during that period. Looking at the Cabinet, however, as it stood in the beginning, there can be no question as to the wisdom of Washington's selection and the great abilities which were thus brought together for the administration and construction of a great national government.

Speaking of wage cuts, the Bureau of Conciliation of the Labor Department in nine weeks reported 20 disputes on Federal building work. Seventeen of these concerned wages.

FOLK RUSH WOODLAND DELLS TO ESCAPE THOSE DECIBELS

Call it the "primitive urge if you want to, but science has another name for the attraction which is drawing more campers and tourists into the nation's forests and parks this year than ever before.

Up-to-the-minute officials of the United States Forest Service are attributing this rush for woodland retreats in search of rest and relaxation to the low volume of decibels found there.

Decibel is the scientific name for a unit of sound as measured by the acoustimeter, an invention developed in radio research and now being employed to alarming advantage by city noise commissions.

"Thus we find," sa the scientific-inclined foresters, "that the tired business man whose nerves are frayed by the noise in his office with its volume of 57 decibels, or by the pounding of streets cars and the tooting of taxi horns on Main Street with its 75 decibels, or by family discussions which may have much the same effect as an airplane's 115 decibels, hies himself off to some woodland dell and there, surrounded by the muted notes of birds, the sighing of swaying branches and the muffled sound of flowing water, finds peace and content in an atmosphere of only 12 decibels".

BEAT SUMMER HEAT. PROBLEM OF HOUSEWIFE

The wise housewife takes advantage of the occasional cool day to cook a large piece of meat which she can use to prepare leftover without the expenditure of much time or effort. The National Live Stock and Meat Board give you some suggestions which you will find make preparing summer meals easy.

Cooking a whole or a half ham provides meat dishes for several days. A roast of lamb, beef, veal, or pork may be utilized in any number of quickly prepared main dishes. A pot-roast of beef or veal, or a beef or calf's tongue are other possibilities.

Meat salads are always acceptable as the piece de resistance of the summer meal. With them may be served one or two warm vegetables, such as creamed potatoes, peas, green corn.

Creamed meat dishes may be made ready and assembled just before serving time. A mousse of ham or veal, molded in large or small molds, is nice for the company luncheon or informal dinner, because it may be prepared early and forgotten about until time to serve. A well-seasoned sauce such as horseradish sauce adds zest.

A simple but a very attractive way of serving left-over meat is to slice it and arrange on a garnished platter.

Tomatoes or green peppers may be filled with left-over meat and baked.

1 teaspoon onion juice
2 hard-cooked eggs

Soak gelatine in cold water for five minutes. Dissolve in boiling stock. Add seasonings. Combine the ham, pickles, and gelatine mixture. Decorate a ring mold with slices of hard-cooked egg. Turn in the ham and chill. Unmold and fill center with mixed vegetable salad.

Molded Lamb Tongues
Cook lamb tongues until tender in hot water to which salt, a few celery seeds, and 1 small onion have been added as seasonings. When done, cool, remove skin and slice and reserve the liquid in which cooked. Strain this liquid and for each pin add 1 tablespoon gelatine. Chill a mold and pour in a little of the stock, add a layer of the sliced tongue, then more stock, and repeat until the meat is all used. The meat should be covered with stock. Allow several hours for the jelly to set. Unmold.

Lamb in Mint Jelly
Cut fine one bunch of mint, cover with vinegar, and add sugar to taste. Let stand over night. Rub through a fine sieve and add 2 cups of white stock. Tint green with vegetable coloring. Add ½ package gelatine which has been soaked in cold water and dissolved in hot water. Add 1

The phrase "springing up like a mushroom overnight" has some truth, since mushrooms grow at a phenomenal rate during moist, hot seasons. This is partly explained by the fact that much of the tissue forms before the fungus breaks through the surface of the ground. Then the fungus tissue absorbs water quickly and expands very rapidly in wet weather.

Malaria: Its Cause and Prevention

IT'S CAUSE AND PREVENTION

By State Board of Health of Missouri

4. Life Cycle of Mosquitoes
All mosquitoes pass through a life cycle of four stages. The names of these various changes in the order of their appearance are, the egg, the larva or wiggletail, the pupa or tumbler, and the winged adult image. The first three of these periods are passed in water. The female mosquito lays her eggs on the surface of water, being careful to select that which is quiet and undisturbed. These eggs are laid singly or in rafts, depending on the species. The eggs of the Anopheles (malaria) mosquito appear singly, whereas the other types are in the form of rafts. The latter have been known to contain as many as 200 eggs.

Water is a necessity and without it there can be no mosquitoes. However, the different types prefer different sources of water. For instance, the Culex or harmless mosquito will lay her eggs any place—a tin can, a rain barrel, a sewer or even a cuspitor. The Anopheles, on the other hand, desires clean water and deposits her eggs near the edge of a slow moving stream and an animal tracks near the bank of a ditch or stream. After floating about for a day the eggs hatch into larvae or wiggletails. It is doubtful if there is any one who, at some time or other, has not seen these floating in a rain barrel or pail of stagnant water. Here again will be noted a dissimilarity between the various types. The larvae of the harmless mosquitoes hang head downward into the water with their bodies at an angle to the surface, whereas the Anopheles float on the surface. When the latter are disturbed they dart across the water, while the Culex dive toward the bottom. The wiggletails use as a food supply the disintegrated organic matter in the water and breathe through tubes located in their tails.

This stage lasts from 5 to 10 days and then they become pupae or tumblers. These are comma-shaped and have been given the name of Tumblers because when disturbed, they bob around in the water. At this stage they are without mouths so take no nourishment. The breathing tubes are now situated in their heads and have the appearance of horns.

The pupa stage is short and after a day or two the back of the pupa splits open and the adult winged mosquito emerges upon the surface of the water. It rests here only long enough to dry its wings and then flies off.

The entire life cycle of the mosquito requires a period of about 7 days. However, weather conditions play a large part, and warm weather is much more conducive to growth.

SHOULD OREDR FINGERLINGS BY SEPT. 20 SAYS DEPARTMENT

Eighty-two plantings, averaging approximately 1500 native game fish in each planting have been made in public fishing waters of the State during the last three weeks, according to G. M. Kirby, chief of hatcheries of the Missouri Game and Fish Department. Many of the fish were four to six inches in length.

Applications for fish to be distributed this season can be accepted for only a short time yet, Mr. Kirby states. In explanation, he says: "The Game and Fish Department has, for a number of years, exercised its forces toward the end that the largest number of fish applications received annually are taken care of or filled during the current year in which they are received. It has successfully accomplished this in most years.

"It is obvious to all, however, that, in following the Federal and other States' Game and Fish Departments' custom, the Missouri department must have a definite date marking the close of the current year. September 20 was adopted some years ago as the closing date. Applications received after that date will necessarily be placed with applications for the succeeding year."

The Department of Agriculture is planning experiments in crossing hardy Afrikander cattle from southern Africa with native beef breeds, hoping to develop a breed that can endure drought and heat.

Repair the corn crib and granary, clean up rubbish that may harbor rats, and rid the farm of these pests now—and you will avoid damage to stored grain and food this fall and winter. Success in campaigns against rats depends largely on co-operation in destroying them on all the infested farms in a community at the same time. Rodent-control specialists advise mixing enough bait for the entire community at one place and using it on the same day on all infested farms. The specialists say that red squill—a poison deadly to rats and mice but comparatively harmless to cats, dogs and other animals—is one of the best rat poisons. Fresh fish, ground in a meat chopper, is an attractive bait for this purpose. Meat, cereals, and fish mixed separately but put out at the same time to give rats a choice of food will give best results.

Have You Joined The Thrifty Throng of Fuel Savers by placing your order for the Black Servant

"The Automatic Coal Stoker"

These neighbors and friends have placed their order:

No Soot or Smoke

The SERVANETTE in operation is sootless and smokeless as new fuel is constantly fed to the fire from below—automatically—and the proper mixture of air and fuel insures the complete consumption of all volatile gases as they rise through the hot fuel bed, not away from it in the form of smoke and soot, as in hand firing.

No Ashes

The SERVANETTE converts every heat unit. The temperature of the combustion chamber is from 500 to 1000 degrees higher than is possible with hand firing. Combustion is complete and all gases, carbon and coke are consumed, leaving little or no ash. The ash, if any, is fused into an occasional clinker and may be easily removed.

Exact Temperature Desired Regardless of the Weather

Where a SERVANETTE is installed in the home, the fire is automatically regulated at all times to the desired temperature by thermostatic control. The SERVANETTE gives 24 hours service every day. In those hard-heat days of approaching fall and spring, as well as the bitterest days of winter, a SERVANETTE can make your home just as comfortable as a day in May.

LOW FARE EXCURSIONS ANNOUNCED BY FRISCO

St. Louis, August 27.—Frisco Lines today announced low week-end excursion fares covering round trips between stations in Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and from stations in those States to certain points in Texas and to Memphis, Tenn. The rates are to apply between stations where the regular one way adult fare does not exceed $7.25, or where the distance is not greater than approximately 200 miles, and will become effective September 5.

Tickets will be on sale each Saturday and Sunday to and including December 27 and will be good for the return trip until midnight on the first Monday following date of sale. From Oklahoma points, the tickets will be on sale Friday as well as Saturday and Sunday.

YOU SHOULD ENCOURAGE NEIGHBOR AND TENANTS TO DRY SOME VEGETABLES

The Red Cross feels that they will get a far heavier call on them for food and money in the cities next winter and consequently will give little to the rural sections. In addition that we have a wonderful food supply this year, this should be preserved in some manner. Your probably have fixed yourself for a supply, but if you have tenants on your farm who are not laying up a food supply you may rest assured you will be the first ones that they will come to asking of your aid. It is an essential thing for you to encourage these people to dry some fruit and vegetables. On the other hand you may have a neighbor who has food available but who are not drying it. Probably in some way you might suggest to dry some food for next winter who will probably appeal to you for aid.

Directions for cooking dried fruits and vegetables may be obtained by writing to R. L. Furry, County Extension Agent, Benton, Mo.

Why Does The G. O. P. Slander Millions Of Us?

Seeking to fasten upon the American people a bureaucracy that is only one step removed from Communism, the Republican national committee has the colossal nerve to announce to the nation that the question to be decided at the 1932 election will be "Soviet or Republic?"

The committee is merely carrying out the Hoover plan of calling everyone who disagrees with the President a "Communist".

Thus, if you believe in public ownership of power, you are a dangerous red.

If you believe in justice for farmers, insurance against unemployment or lower taxation, you are getting money from Moscow.

If you believe in tariff revision, to stop the exodus of American factories to foreign countries, you are a "Communist".

The Republican party hasn't a chance in the world to remain in power after the next general election. It knows it—and, desperate, its power-drunk leaders become frantic.

No lie is too silly to be told; no slander too contemptible to be spread; no libel on millions of non-Republican Americans too disgraceful to be broadcast.

The millions of real Americans who, next year, are NOT going to vote for Hoover, and who are NOT going to vote for Republican candidates, will resent with all their force the filthy slanders hurled at them by Hoover and his committee satellites.

We have had filthy politics in this nation before.

But we seldom have had the spectacle of a despairing political party, vainly trying to stem the deluge, descending so low as to brand millions of honest men and women as "communists" and "reds", simply because these men and women will not fall down and worship the god of Mellonism, the god of insanely high tariffs, the god of Private Plunder of National Resources, the god of Injustice.

The idea of the Republican national committee, that it can scare us with a bogey-man of 'Communism', is fundamentally funny. After what this nation has gone thru for two years, under the divinely-guided Republican party, nothing can scare it.

If the Republican party thinks it can win in 1932 with such a bogey-man, it is due for the surprise of its life.—San Diego Herald.

PUMPKIN PIE IS VERY POPULAR DESSERT FOR FALL

From the time the first golden pumpkin makes its appearance until the last one has been taken out of storage, there's no more universally popular dessert than pumpkin pie. Although canned pumpkin is available at all times and makes excellent pies, pumpkin pie enjoys a definite season, and is most appreciated during the Fall months.

Everybody has his own very definite ideas of just what a pumpkin pie should be from color to taste. Different sections of the country follow their own traditions in the making of pumpkin pie, making it too dear a dish to be treated lightly.

If you use canned pumpkin, cook it over a low fire until perfectly dry. Fresh pumpkin can be baked, steamed or stewed until tender and dry. Baking is perhaps the simplest method, for the pumpkin is merely cut in halves, seeds removed and baked, cut side down in a dripping pan until tender. Then scrape from shell and force through a ricer or colander.

How to Stew Pumpkin

To stew, wash pumpkin and cut in narrow strips. Remove seeds and pare off yellow shell. Cut in cubes and put into a heavy aluminum or iron kettle. Add just enough water to prevent burning before pumpkin begins to cook. Cover and cook over a good fire until pumpkin is dry. It takes five or six hours to stew a pumpkin. When dry, rub through a colander or ricer.

One cup sifted pumpkin, 3-4 cup light brown sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon molasses, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 egg, 2 cups rich milk.

Mix and sift flour, spices and salt and add to sugar. Mix and stir into pumpkin. Add molasses and egg slightly beaten with milk. Turn into a deep pie dish lined with plain pastry and bake one hour. The oven should be hot for the first ten minutes to set the crust. Reduce heat and bake at 350 degrees F for 50 minutes. The rule will fill an eight-inch pie pan.

Fluffy Pumpkin Pie

Three-fourths cup sifted pumpkin, 3-4 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 1-2 cups milk, 1-2 cup cream, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

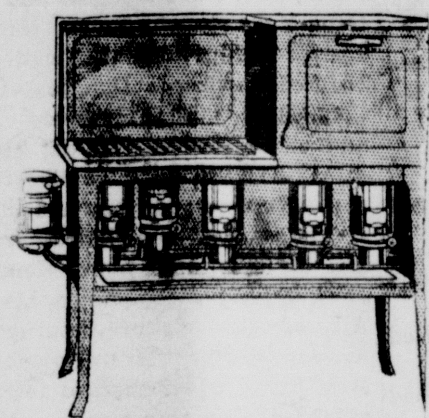

Beat yolks of eggs with sugar, salt and spices. Add pumpkin, milk and cream and mix thoroughly. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and fold into first mixture. Turn into a pie dish lined with pastry and bake as in other recipe.

If a highly spiced pie is liked more spices can be added to either rule. Squash often is substituted for pumpkin and while it makes an excellent pie, the flavor is not the same.

Federal specialists have devised a modified and simplified test for the pullorum disease that tells in a minute or two whether a fowl is infected.

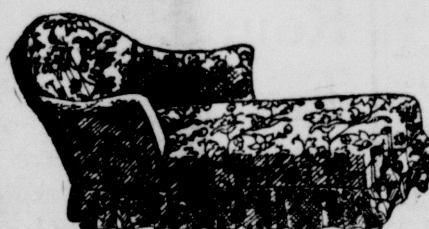

Serve small portions of food to children so that they can clear their plates without the feeling of being stuffed or nagged into eating. Then allow second helpings if the children want them.

Loosely fitted long sleeves are most becoming on fishy arms. If open at the wrists they are graceful and comfortable. To make the arm seem longer and more slender, use bound slashes, lengthwise bands of materials, rows of buttons, etc. Sleeves gathered into a tight cuff with a puffed affect should be avoided by the stout woman.

LAD SHOT THROUGH CHEST STILL LIVES

Daniel Bush, 18 years old, of near Noxall, can lay claim to having a charmed life. He will be discharged from the Emergency Hospital Tuesday afternoon alive, and more or less well, although a .32 caliber, steel jacketed bullet drilled its way thru his left breast just over the heart. The bullet lodged under the skin of the lad's back, lower left side, was removed by Dr. H. M. Kendig late Friday night.

Bush explained that he had accompanied his girl to a church service conducted by the Pentecostal congregation at Noxall and was on his way home, when the weapon was accidentally discharged. His girl friend was with him at the time.

The young man probably owes his life to the fact that the bullet was made of hard steel instead of being a soft lead or "split nose" type pellet. Pistol experts here state that the former type drills a "clean" hole, whereas the latter spread out as they penetrate in soft flesh.

Mrs. Vess Oliver of New Madrid is getting along nicely at the Emergency Hospital here.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leonard Chaney, Routh 1, Sikeston on August 21. The youngster has been named Roy Leonard, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Greenlee, 503 Northwest Street, are the parents of a baby girl, Edna, born last Wednesday evening.

AS I SEE IT

By I'm About Town

Most of us ordinary mortals some time or other get discouraged over being just ordinary, commonplace citizens. Nothing seems to set us apart from the herd, and no one bothers whether we arise at four, six or seven o'clock, eat oatmeal or toast for breakfast and in general we are left alone to live our commonplace lives.

There are times, however, when we commoners can arise and give thanks for being sound from the neck up. Some fellow may be exceedingly accomplished in some manner of doing his job, but cracked mentally otherwise, lacking entirely that moral stability which society has found best for the maintenance of the group.

A bird with thumbs on its wings is reported by a recent African expedition. At the present rate of development in hitch hiking, the next three or four generations may find thumbs protruding from noses of human beings.

They stand all day, patiently thumb, thumbing their way, infesting highways east, north, south or west.

The death of H. P. Re of Coldwater, Mich., inspired a newspaper reporter to write an article on this short name. He supposed that Re of Indianapolis, E. Py of Newcastle, was the shortest known, and so wrote his story. It has since developed that there are others, including F. Ax Ind., J. Ur of Torrington, Conn., and the shortest of all, A. A. of Chicago.

We are pleased to report that little Tomy Roberts, who had his tonsils removed recently, is coming along fine.

DAVIS ANSWERS CLAIM OF "FLAG POLE" AGENTS IN NEW MADRID CO. DISTRICTS

By Milus R. Davis, County Supt.

Miss Vivian Hart returned last Friday from the Murray Teachers' College of Kentucky, where she has just finished 12 weeks' work. Murray has two summer terms of six weeks each.

Beulah Parker, York and Marcelle Kinder, New Madrid, have enrolled in the M. S. T. A. since our last writing.

Teachers having delinquents who average missing as much as one day per week are required by law to report their names monthly to the attendance officer, O. E. Mitchell.

In case any director or teacher wants a special drive to secure better attendance, we would suggest that you write a few lines to the attendance officer or county superintendent, and we will make a special effort to help you.

The State superintendent informs us that some flag pole agents in the State are telling the directors that their school will not receive any State aid unless they purchase a flag. Of course this is untrue.

We do have a new law requiring a flag to be displayed at each school, but a dollar flag slipped into a bracket over the outside door, or hung on a sassafras pole, will suffice. If a district is able, it shows a fine patriotic spirit to float Old Glory over the school yard and it makes our heart beat a little faster to gaze upon this precious symbol, but we doubt the wisdom of spending much money in this way when the school needs books and equipment.

At our Plan Meeting, a committee of city superintendents present submitted the following names as delegates from this county to the Southeast Missouri Teachers Association: Ralph McCullough, G. D. Englehart, L. B. Hoy, G. E. Collins, C. E. Peppin, Herbert Illres, W. A. Shy and Milus R. Davis.

The following alternates were chosen for each of the above delegates, respectively: Mabel Mecklem, L. Zimmer, Nettie Jackson, Hunter Miller, Owen J. Taul, J. W. Miller, Elizabeth Hoehn, Oren S. Liley.

Question (from a rural consolidation): We have voted to pay tuition of our students who wish to attend high school. Will we be reimbursed for tuition money paid out?

Answer: After September 14, it is not necessary to pay any tuition at all. The high school where the student attends will apply for this tuition next spring, to the State, and will receive same next August.

Question: Do we get $3 from the State for each pupil transported to a high school outside of the district?

Answer: No provision is made for transporting pupils to schools outside of the district. But many pupils are providing transportation for their pupils who wish to attend high school. This cost is paid out of the incidental fund. The $3 per child applies only to pupils (both grade and high school) transported within the district a distance of two miles or more.

A quadruple murder in Michigan has given impetus to the movement for the restoration of the death penalty in that State. The prisoners were captured and tried in a single day. It appears that Michigan can set an example in the way of speedy execution of justice. The sight of three men paying the penalty for their crime, within twenty-four hours from the time they were taken, will be longer remembered than the execution of the same men after the lapse of so long a period that the crime is forgotten. If Michigan has a law against murder that can be enforced with the quickness of the thunder bolt, so great a step in advance has been made that there is little room to quarrel about the complete adequacy of the penalty exacted.

Late-maturing birds in the poultry flock are usually poor producers. At the U. S. Animal Husbandry Experiment Farm at Beltsville, Md., two years ago, the Rhode Island Reds that began to lay in September and October averaged 212 and 209 eggs respectively for their first year, but those starting to lay in January laid an average of only 161 eggs in the year. Similar records in other years showed similar results.

When 'moth balls' are composed entirely of naphthalene, the most common ingredient, no ingredient statement is required by the Federal Food and Drug Administration to appear on the label, although the administration sees no objection to the statement, "Active Ingredient 100 per cent." But if they consist of naphthalene and an inert ingredient, the label must bear a statement to show clearly the presence of the inert substance.

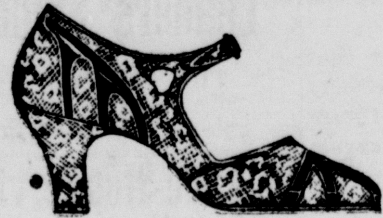

Is your boy in his "teens" always hungry? Scientists say it is quite normal for him to crave more food, perhaps, than anyone else in the family. Because of his great activity he requires almost as much energy food as a grown man doing very heavy, active work, and because he is growing very rapidly, he needs almost one and a half times as much food that supplies him with protein and minerals, as a fully grown man. Give him plenty of milk, eggs, fresh fruits and vegetables in addition to the energy foods that are usually present in his diet, such as bread and butter, cereals, potatoes, cake and pastry.

LIGHT OF STAR TRILLIONS
OF MILES AWAY WILL THROW
SWITCH TO LIGHT EXPOSITION

Chicago, August 26.—Light from a star 240 trillion miles away will throw the switch for the official opening of the science exhibits of A Century of Progress, Chicago's 1933 World's Fair, exposition officials announced today.

Moving at the rate of 186,000 miles a second this light has traveled from the giant star Arcturus since 1893, the year of the World's Columbian Exposition—Chicago's first world's fair.

At 9 p. m. of June 1, 1933, this light will fall through the powerful lenses of the forty-inch telescope of the Yerkes observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., and be focused on a tiny photo-electric cell.

The lights impact will cause an electric effect on the photo-electric cell. This amplified, will send an impulse over wires to the exposition grounds, which will throw the necessary switches to open the science exhibits, turn on brilliant illumination and start ponderous machinery whirling.

The plan to use light energy from Arcturus rather than the push of some dignitary's hand has been developed by exposition scientists in co-operation with Prof. Edwin B. Frost, the blind director of the Yerkes observatory.

It will be the first time that man has reached into the void beyond our system to harness the energy of a heavenly body to so mundane a task. The harness of Arcturus will symbolize the victory of mankind over nature through the application of science—a victory which forms the general theme of the exposition itself.

In those forty years mankind has made most of the scientific advance recorded in an abazing Century of Progress.

Fort Dearborn, first exhibit building of Chicago's 1933 World's Fair and an exact replica of the log stronghold in which the first Chicagoans defied the savage Redskin from 1804 until 1812, was the scene of colorful ceremonies during the week.

The occasion was the 119th anniversary of the destruction of Fort Dearborn by Indians, following the massacre of the evacuation garrison. Presiding at the fort replica was Miss Maria Middleton, of Wayne, Ill., who had been selected for the distinction of being Miss Fort Dearborn in a series of contests in which hundreds of young women participated.

As part of the ceremony, Red Sun, descendant of Pottawattomies, who took part in the massacre, and John Mason, descendant of Capt. John Whistler, who built the tomahawk. Present also were Richard Grant and Ernest Lassey, who had just completed a canoe journey around the eastern half of the United States—the longest canoe voyage ever made. They had started from the Michigan Avenue link bridge, site of the original Fort Dearborn, last September 22.

3-DAY DEER HUNTING SEASON IN MISSOURI
TO OPEN OCTOBER 22

For the first time in six years, Missouri hunters will have an opportunity to hunt deer in the forest ranges of the Ozarks where, according to the State Game and Fish Department, somewhere between 8000 and 20,000 deer run wild.

The open season has been declared by the department for three days commencing October 22. The shooting has been restricted to bucks having at least four points on each antler and the department announces that an adequate staff of deputy game wardens will be on hand to see that provisions of the laws and regulations are observed by the hunters.

During the three-day season, but one buck per hunter and strict regulations relating to the use of deer tags have been laid down.

THIS WEEK IN MO. HISTORY

(Floyd C. Shoemaker)

June of 1846 was a busy time at Fort Leavenworth, just across the river from Missouri.

The Army of the West, one thousand of its sixteen hundred men natives of Missouri, was being organized there for the Mexican War. Across a thousand miles of prairie, desert and mountain from Leavenworth lay Santa Fe and the great Southwest, the objective of the Army.

In the bustle and excitement of organizing that Army, there was one man who stood out above all. The commander, Stephen Watts Kearny, had a wide reputation for cool and dispassionate judgment. His long record as frontiersman, soldier and commander gave proof of this.

Though not a native Missourian, being born at Newark, New Jersey, on August 30, 1794, a date which recurs this week, Stephen Watts Kearny had a colorful career which was strangely centered around Missouri and Missourians. He commanded troops in this State, guarded it against hostile Indian tribes, led Missourians against Mexico, and when the War was over and death came, he would find a resting place at St. Louis.

By June 18, 1846, the first regiment of the Army at Leavenworth was organized, and after the custom of the times, its chief officer was elected by the soldiers themselves. Alexander W. Doniphan, a young lawyer, thus found himself the colonel of part of Kearny's command. Over eight hundred men were under Doniphan.

On August 18, 1846, Kearny marched his army into Santa Fe in the wake of the retreating Mexican governor and his scattered army. Santa Fe had fallen without a battle. The new government established by Kearny was almost wholly a Missouri institution. Laws for the new province were drawn up by Col. Doniphan and Private Willard P. Hall, later a Congressman and governor of Missouri. The governor was Charles Bent of St. Louis; Francis P. Blair of St. Louis became the U. S. District Attorney; Stephen Lee of St. Louis was sheriff, and James White Leal of St. Louis was prosecuting attorney. All were appointed by order of Gen. Kearny.

Leaving Doniphan in command at Santa Fe, Kearny and 300 of his men set out for California. Soon learning that California was already in control of the United States, Kearny sent back 200 of his men and continued on over the desert. At San Pasqual one of the bloodiest battles in which white men participated in California took place between Kearny's men and a body of Californians who had revolted. Eighteen of Kearny's men were killed, and he himself was wounded severely but the Californians were routed, and Kearny continued on to join the other American troops in California and take part in conquering that territory.

After a short while as governor of California, Kearny was ordered to Washington, D. C., and from there to Mexico, where he saw no active fighting. He returned to St. Louis in 1848, still sick from a fever contracted in Mexico, and died the same year.

Kearny had served in the War of 1812. In 1823 he was promoted to major, and commanded troops at Fort Belenfontaine near St. Louis. He also conducted numerous campaigns into the West against Indians.

He helped organize the U. S. Dragoons in 1834, and was made a colonel of Dragoons in 1836. From 1836 to 1842 he was stationed at Fort Leavenworth, charged with protecting 300 miles of Indian infested frontier of Missouri. From 1842 to 1846 he commanded the Third Military Department at St. Louis. There followed his campaign into the Southwest, during which he was made a general, and for which he is best known. Kearny died at St. Louis, October 31, 1848. His funeral on November 2, 1848, has been called the largest in the city's history up to that time.

Federal laws superseded State hunting regulations, State game and fish department officials point out in warning waterfowl shooters that, while the Missouri laws would permit shooting from September 11 to April 15, the Federal laws which permit hunting only from October 1 to October 31 must be observed.

Missouri's waterfowl shooting season has been shortened by Federal edict to include only the month of October, according to an announcement made this week by the U. S. Biological Survey. This shortened season is a part of the nation-wide partial curtailment of waterfowl shooting in an effort to save the existing supply of ducks, geese, coot, and brandt, which, owing to continuous droughts in the nesting regions, has not had a normal increase in recent years.

NEW POP CORN VARIETY
POPS TO GREATER SIZE

Popcorn specialists have surpassed the record of two blades of grass for one. Through selection, they have produced a new strain which pops to twenty-six times in volume.

The new strain, a yellow pearl popcorn named Sunburst, was produced during a 7-year period by agronomists of the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Kansas Agricultural Experiment Station.

They produced the new strain by testing ears of popcorn and retaining for seed the ones which gave the greatest volume of popped corn. The test consisted of popping a sample of the seed from each of the selected ears and measuring the volume of the resulting popped corn. Each sample was also tasted for flavor and texture. The remainder of the seed on the good ears was kept and planted the following year. The process was then repeated.

Although the testing was a long job, it proved worth the effort in producing better popping corn. It took one man a day to test from 60 to 75 ears of corn. However, the new strain showed an average of twenty-six times the volume of the seed when popped, while Queen Golden, the variety from which Sunburst was developed, gives slightly more than nineteen times the volume of the grain.

Such careful selection of seed, while not practical for the small grower, has possibilities for the commercial grower of popcorn seed, declare the agronomists who made the Kansas tests.

SEED LOAN BORROWERS
TO BE ALLOWED TO STORE
CROPS FOR BETTER PRICES

New Madrid, August 24.—According to County Agent Scott M. Julian, information has been received from the Federal Seed Loan office at St. Louis to the effect that picking and ginning will be allowed by the Government on their loans, also baling and hauling of hay expense, and thrashing expense of soybeans. In fact, a reasonable expense connected with the harvesting of any crop is permitted.

Another thing of interest is that the Government will allow borrowers to store farm commodities for future better prices. They also expect enough feed to be retained for the feeding of work stock during the winter and spring. A borrower who has other livestock which is not ready to market by the time the note is due will be permitted to keep what he needs to feed these off until such time as he sells the livestock. It is expected that a collector will be in the territory in the very near future and any problems arising can be taken up with him, or if before, directly with the St. Louis Feed and Seed Loan Office.

Rolla—A M Light took over Newbury Heights Service Station on Highway 66

Waterfowl will not be without police protection this year during the shortened season, for in addition to the State's force of wardens there are full time Federal game protectors, each of whom has several special assistants located within the State.

Coroner Holterman was called to Matthews Tuesday to hold an inquest over a negro found dead near the railroad tracks at Champion. He was about 20 years of age. He had either fallen or been knocked from a train. Identity unknown.

Francis Moore and children and his granddaughter, Helen Moore, of Champagne, Ill., who have been visiting the family of the former's sister, Mrs. J. R. King returned to their home, Monday. Mrs. King accompanied them to Equality, Ill., where Mr. Moore and Mrs. King will visit with their aged mother, who is 96 years old.

"Hoover Prosperity" is evidenced on every side and from every quarter. In the sixty years of my life, I've never read of so many suicides caused by financial trouble, nor so many farmers killing themselves because they were unable to meet their debts on account of the low price of farm produce. People howl about an overproduction. I know of families that haven't rour in their house because the men can't find work. Lots of fruit. Yes, but I have offered fruit to people that had nothing and they told me they had no cans nor sugar to put it up in. No work, nothing to buy with. This is all due to Republican prosperity.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL FROM BLODGETT

Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Marshall motored to Cape Friday.

Method of Preserving Corn And Fruit: The Evaporation Process Offers Cheap

By
R. L. Furry, County Agent

Dry your fruits and corn if you do not have cans in which to place them. The cost of cans is keeping many from putting up some of our surplus crops. From now on we may dry peaches, apples and corn.

The drying process is easily done either with a stove or a low roof or a low frame covered with steel roofing. It is best to lay down old sheets or other cloth material and scatter the fruit, etc., on this sheet, then put a cheesecloth of similar material over to keep away flies and dust. The steel roof is better as it gets hotter in the sun but wood roof or platform may be used. By having fruit on a sheet it is easily taken up at night to keep off dew and also in case of rain.

The faster and better process is to use the stove method. Make frames two feet square out of 1x4 wood material and tack screen on the bottom. Put material in this about 1 inch deep, set this on four bricks on top of stove in which there is a slow fire going. Other trays may be added to this first tray as high as convenient on the stove. The bricks allow air circulation but do not allow bottom tray to get too hot, as 160 degrees is maximum temperature to use in drying. In case an oil stove is used, put a steel or metal plate over the burners, then put bricks on this and then trays as in coal or wood stove.

You may tell when fruit is dry enough by the following methods: break the piece in two and if you cannot squeeze moisture out, then, it should be flexible enough to roll and break in two, also when making a ball out of a handful it should fall apart and not stick together. About four hours is required by the stove method while a day or more will be required by the sun method.

Storage is best made in flour sacks and then suspend the sacks by a wire to help keep mice from bothering. By putting in a paper sack and then in a flour sack insects are better kept out.

Peaches

Break in halves and do not peel. In case of rather large peaches is better to quarter them. In using the stove method take care that not too much heat is used at first.

Apples

Apples should be peeled and cored. Cut into crescents having each crescent about one-half inch in thickness in center. On stove method do not get hot enough to start beads of juice to come to the surface.

Corn

Shuck and clean ears at regular roasting corn stage. Drop the ears in boiling water for exactly ten minutes. This sets the milk. After cooling the ears, cut the grains off with a sharp knife. Place in an inch layer for drying. Corn should be stirred occasionally to get uniform drying. Continue drying until the corn is hard and when cut, the cut surface will have a glossy appearance. Properly dried corn is really superior to canned corn and field corn may be used as well as sweet corn.

It may be well for you to encourage a neighbor who has been handicapped in canning their needs to do some drying as it is our least expensive methods of getting in food for next winter.

USE PEACHES AS FEE WHEN COUPLE ARE WED; GRAIN ALSO IS O. K.

Henderson, Ky., August 28.—Two bushels of peaches were Magistrate Louis Keiderer's fee Thursday for marrying Miss Mary Ferver of Chattanooga, Tenn., and George Lee Bugg, Evansville, Ind.

The fruit was turned over to the Welfare Association for distribution to the poor.

The couple was the first to take advantage of the magistrate's recent offer to perform marriage ceremonies for two bushels of grain or fruit during the depression.

Peaches retail here at 25 cents a bushel and may be picked in orchards for 10 cents a bushel.

Smooth vetch is one of the best winter legumes for the South. In commercial plantings in the Cotton Belt it has made somewhat better winter growth than hairy vetch and is preferable to that variety. In the last few years a great deal of smooth vetch seed has been imported under the name hair vetch, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A temperance organization in Kansas succeeded in getting a bootlegger in jail. The prisoner berated the leader of the organization for ingratitude. "You folks busted up the greatest temperance movement in this country for years," he said. "I was selling them fellows whiskey that was diluted as high as 75 per cent, and if you had left me alone another month I'd had 'em drinking pure water'."—Boston Transcript.

With every paper we take up and in nearly every conversation something is said about hard times, until we have come to wonder just what hard times really are. It is a sure thing that we have much more than our ancestors had, that it is easier to get, that the poorest of modern homes are better than the best of a hundred years ago, that the work required one hundred years ago to accomplish a given task, that same task could be done in one-fourth the time today. Our poor and needy we will always have with us through good times and bad, and taking everything into consideration things could be a whole lot worse, yes, a whole lot worse.—Shelbina Democrat.

STANDARD OIL HEAD CAPE FOUND SHOT

Cape Girardeau, August 27.—The body of C. B. Hoeller, special representative of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, was found near here this afternoon. Hoeller, who lived here, apparently shot himself.

Frank Hoeller, foreman in the International Shoe Factory here (Sikeston) is a nephew of the deceased. Funeral services were held in Cape Girardeau at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

According to local Standard Oil men, Hoeller was one of the 'biggest' men in Southeast Missouri, having full charge of all sales. His job consisted in assisting salesman in closing large contracts, and supervising sales in the entire district. He was very well liked.

Mr. Hoeller had no financial worries, as far as could be learned here, but brooded considerably over his health. His wife preceded him in death some time ago. Two daughters survive.

ADVANCE SCHOOL MAN SUES CHEVROLET CO.

The following article was carried in the Globe-Democrat, Wednesday, under a Kansas City date line:

"A suit asking for $2,500,000 damages was filed here today against the General Motors Corporation by H. W. Lueddecke, superintendent of schools at Advance, Mo., who alleges his ideas for improvement of the Chevrolet automobile were used without recompense.

"Lueddecke's petition stated his suggestions were submitted in a letter June 27, 1927, and had to do with what he termed overbalancing of the automobile by the location of the steering apparatus, battery, starter and generator all on the left side. He said he had been forced to put in an extra spring leaf in the left front and rear springs of his car to equalize the balance.

"Lueddecke alleges the company made the changes shortly after receiving his suggestions. He asks that he be paid on the basis of 50c for every car manufactured since his ideas were submitted".

FORMER CHARLESTON MAN TO BE MARRIED SOON

Charleston, August 27.—Cards have been received by relatives and friends in this city announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Genevieve Harder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Harder of St. Louis and Harry Louis Steele of St. Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Steele of this city.

The ceremony will take place at

St. Joseph's church, Meramec and Maryland, Clayton, on the morning of September 2, at 9 o'clock. Several relatives and friends from this city will attend the ceremony.

And now comes complaint of the young people in which people living near swimming places say that young people come out after midnight and swim without their swimming suits and stay till morning, and some of the said complainers get practically no sleep at all.—Shelbina Democrat.

GRANTED DIVORCE

According to the Scott County Democrat (Benton) August 27, a divorce decree and custody of children has been granted to Elsie Davis from Richard Davis.

From 1920 to 1930 farm tenancy increased in 41 States, decreased in 6, and did not change percentage in South Carolina. In the whole country the tenancy was 38.1 per cent in 1920 and 42.4 per cent in 1930.

Henry, Mann And Galloway Take Golf Honors Sunday

H. C. "Heinie" Henry broke into the big show Sunday afternoon on the local links by turning in a score of 84 or 18 holes, or a net of 66 with handicap deducted.

Heinie was lead-off man in the three high shooters of the afternoon dividing honors with Paul Galloway, who rambled around the course 37-74, actual, or 68, handicap considered. Wm. Mann of New Madrid was a close contender with a net medal score of 69 for the afternoon.

A similar match is being arranged for next Sunday evening. Handicaps determined from match play tournament scores and from week-day rounds tend to level up any differences in ability between expert and "dub" golfers.

First column gives handicap, second medal score:

REV. RUDLOFF TO SERVE ORRICK, MO., CONGREGATION

Orrick, Mo., August 27.—Rev. A. C. Rudloff, formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church of Sikeston, will be the pastor of the Baptist church here.

Rev. Rudloff comes highly recommended, having done wonderful work at Sikeston. During his two and a half years there, he netted that church a little over two hundred additions.

He is a man 25 years old, married and they have one child. Rev. and Mrs. Rudloff will live at Liberty and plan to live at Orrick as soon as William Jewell school term is over.

Rev. Rudloff is a product of the Will Mayfield Junior College at Marble Hill. He now enters William Jewell to finish Junior and Senior terms, after which he plans to finish his industrial education at Louisville, Ky.

He is a very refined gentleman, has a splendid delivery and displays wonderful Bible knowledge. In fact, he shows talent that the country churches rarely enjoy.

All who heard him last Sunday pronounced him as a real find for the Baptist church. He is the type that draws the big crowds.

If it were not for the fact that Rev. Rudloff is seeking higher ground by schooling himself, no small church could engage him. The city churches would grab him.

The people of Orrick and especially of the Baptist congregation, feel that they are fortunate in getting a big man, even though for a short while.—Orrick Times.

C'NSTON NAZARENE CHURCH CONDUCTS TENT MEETING

Charleston, August 27.—A tent meeting is now being conducted in this city by the members of the Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. J. C. Frost of Alabama, a noted evangelist of the church and his singer and choir leader, Rev. Earl Beal of Fredericktown are here conducting the meeting.

D. A. R. MEETING SATURDAY

The D. A. R. will meet Saturday, September 5, at the home of Mrs. Kate Harris, with Mrs. Harris and Misses Lydia and Audrey Chaney hostesses.

Members will answer roll call by notes on their summer vacation.

Mrs. Wallace Applegate will be leader of the program for the afternoon.

ARNOLD ROTH RESIGNS FROM PURINA COMPANY: HAS INSURANCE CONTRACT

Arnold Roth, who for the past five years has ably represented Purina Mills in Southeast Missouri, has resigned from this position to become special agent for the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States. This is one of the largest and oldest companies of the country being 72 years old and having over seven billion dollars insurance written. During July 1930 claims were paid, for a total of $5,787,837, 99.8 per cent of these were paid within one day. Another fine thing in these times, states Mr. Roth, is that the company pays more to living policy holders through dividends, endowments, disability claims and annuities, than to beneficiaries. The Equitable has more annuities outstanding and pays more in such annual incomes than any two insurance companies.

Mr. Roth will also represent the Fidelity Investment Association, which offers a safe and systematic plan of building incomes under a guaranteed return. Fidelity has gradually grown until today it is the largest financial institution in the United States devoted exclusively to the building of incomes.

Mr. Roth feels that with the representation of these two outstanding companies in their respective fields, he will be able to be of real service to this section of the country.

Ray S. Duncan of Jackson, who for the past several years has represented the Purina Company in that city and area will move his family to Sikeston in the near future to assume the position vacated by the resignation of Mr. Roth.

NAZARENE CHURCH ASSEMBLY TO BE HELD IN POPLAR BLUFF SEPTEMBER 9 TO 12

Poplar Bluff, August 28.—The annual assembly of the Nazarene Church of Missouri will be held in Poplar Bluff, September 9-12. More than 200 delegates are expected at the assembly and the Poplar Bluff Chamber of Commerce is making final arrangements to entertain the visitors while they are in this city.

Various churches of the city are assisting in the arrangements for securing lodging for the visiting delegates, but to date only 20 rooms have been pledged. Secretary H. S. Bloodworth, of the Chamber of Commerce, stated today that it was important that at least 100 rooms be pledged in order to take care of the visiting delegates.

Officers of the organization which will hold their annual meeting at Poplar Bluff are: J. W. Roach of Piedmont, Supt.; Erna Patterson of Malden, Secretary; and A. A. Patterson of Malden, Treasurer.

The Poplar Bluff Chamber of Commerce extended the convention an invitation to hold their next assembly at Poplar Bluff and at a meeting of the advisory board in St. Louis on March 31, this year, it was unanimously voted to hold their next assembly here.

LEWIS CONLEY SUFFERS BROKEN ARM SATURDAY

Lewis Conley, soda fountain expert at Galloway's and voted the most popular boy in high school last term, suffered a broken left arm Saturday afternoon. Conley and another lad were chasing one another back of the Piggly Wiggly store when Conley slipped and fell. The break affected the small bone in the left arm.

LACK OF MATERIAL HALTS WORK ON HIGHWAY BUILDINGS

Part of the John Epple Construction Company force was temporarily laid off Wednesday evening, pending arrival of steel roof trusses for the Highway garage building, and stone for the office structure.

Miss Lucille Stubblefield has returned from a visit in Paducah, Ky. Miss Ann Kirby of Vanduser, who was operated on for appendicitis Sunday, August 16, is recovering rapidly and is expected to leave the hospital Wednesday.

Mrs. Noah Cox of near Sikeston underwent a successful operation for appendicitis Saturday at St. Francis Hospital, Cape Girardeau, with Dr. Stanley J. Tilghman operating. The patient is convalescing nicely.

JUST A PARAGRAPH

On our return to Sikeston from North Missouri, we hear a good deal of talk about the doings of a man recently located in the city. About certain drunken spree, crap shooting forays, insults, and other unseemly conduct. Then threats of suits, beatings, etc. The editor knows nothing of the talk, but in case developments occur, they will be printed in The Standard. We believe 98 or 99 per cent of the women are clean, and are strongly in favor of drastic punishment for men who think most women are but a plaything.

4 HELD AFTER SIKESTON MAN MAKES CHARGE

Cape Girardeau, August 31.—Two Cape Girardeau young men, a Cape Girardeau woman and a former Bloomfield man were being held in jail today at Benton facing charges of highway robbery following an alleged holdup on Highway 61 south of here early today.

The four are Howard Henson, Alberta Waters and Ellis Childs of Cape Girardeau and Jack Fowler of Bloomfield and Cape Girardeau. All were arrested here today.

According to information given officers by Dr. Stanley J. Tilghman, the victim, the group took his purse from him while he was enroute from Cape Girardeau to Sikeston. Although Dr. Tilghman could not be reached today by The Missouriian, it is understood he was here to see a patient, and had employed a taxicab to take him back to Sikeston about midnight.

Childs was driving the taxicab, and for company on the trip to Sikeston, he took along Henson, the Waters woman and Fowler, it is alleged. According to the information given officers, Henson and Fowler engaged in an altercation along the way, and the physician lost his pocketbook before the group reached Sikeston. No articles were taken off him, it was said. Fowler was let out of the machine some place along the way, before the cab reached Sikeston, but all are alleged to have been in the machine at the time of the alleged theft.

Sheriff Tom Scott, and Constable Brown Jewell, the latter of Sikeston, were advised of the alleged robbery and came to Cape Girardeau at once. At 4 a. m. today, they with Captain Charles Schaefer and Patrolman Jno. Wilson, of Cape Girardeau, found Henson and the woman at a building at Frederick and Themis streets, and soon the other two were apprehended.

All face charges of highway robbery, and today had not yet made bond for their liberty from the Scott County jail. The robbery is said to have been staged south of Kelso.

Dr. Tilghman, a physician and surgeon, has not been at Sikeston long, going there July 1 from Independence, Kan. It was said at his office at Sikeston today that he was not carrying a large sum of money.

The officers found, beside Henson's bed when he was arrested today, a knife, a pair of brass knuckles and a steel slug, they said. He and Alberta Waters now have an appeal case pending in Common Pleas Court, that case growing out of a statutory charge.—Cape Missouriian.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hart of Harrisburg, Ill., and daughter, Mrs. John Mitchell of Los Angeles, Cal., were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Wilbur of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Hart returned home Sunday afternoon, while Mrs. Mitchell remained in this city for a few days' visit with the C. E. Mitchell family.

BYSTANDERS SHOWERED WITH CURRENCY AS TRAIN STRIKES ARMORED TRUCK

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Bank notes fluttered and silver dollars rained from the skies today when a freight train crashed into an armored money truck, killing two men and injuring one critically.

The truck, owned by the Brinks Express Company, split open, sending a shower of money down on startled bystanders, who immediately started a scramble for it. Several packages of bills were ground under the wheels of the locomotive, drawing a Baltimore and Ohio train.

Citizens made away with an unknown amount of the scattered cash before police gathered up the rest in baskets. Officials did not know how much money had been lost. Police estimated that they recovered several thousand dollars.

DUNCAN FAMILY HOLDS REUNION HERE SUNDAY

Children of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Duncan of Daniel Street, this city, spent Sunday visiting here. Visitors included: Mr. and Mrs. Andy Duncan of Tampico, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duncan and children, Frank, Jr., and Shirley Ann, of Seymour, Ind., Mrs. Millicent Peters of Vallonia, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Duncan and children, Rodney and Eugene, of St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Duncan and Marion, Jr., of Springfield, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Duncan, Sikeston, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. AUXILIARY MEETING

The Auxiliary of the American Legion will have their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Gus Martin on Tuesday evening instead of Wednesday evening. This is to be a farewell meeting for Mrs. C. E. Brenton, so all members are urged to be present.

ENJOY WATERMELON FEAST

A number of Sikeston boys and girls enjoyed a watermelon supper near Benton last Thursday night. Melons they claim, were not "lifted" or "borrowed" from roadside patches, but were furnished by Tom Simpson.

Those who attended the affair include: Gladys Conley, Clara Trousdale, Arabelle Blackburn, Edna Mount, Dessie Hydriek, Nadine Sellards, Mary Louise Vollmer of Festus, Berniece Farris, Mary Elizabeth La Grange of Chaffee, Gladys Swinney, Paul Higgins, Walter Ancell, Willard Mount, John Kruse, Lynn Sutton, T. B. Dudley, Jr., Tom Simpson and Hugh Stewart.

Parties for the Brentons

The Gleaners Class and the Russell-Bradley Missionary Society of the Methodist church, entertained with a very delightful farewell party for Mrs. C. E. Brenton, Friday evening in the Methodist church basement. The two Societies presented Mrs. Brenton with a lovely desk fountain pen set.

The stewards of the church entertained C. E. Brenton the same evening with a dinner at the Hotel Marshall.

On Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Hess, the following organizations will entertain with a tea complimentary Mrs. Brenton: The Woman's Club, the D. A. R. Chapter, W. C. T. U., Auxiliary of the American Legion. A cordial invitation is extended Mrs. Brenton's friends to attend. The hours are from 3 till 5.

Mrs. C. D. Matthews, Jr., entertained at bridge Monday afternoon.

Felt had special. Watch for Faultless Cleaners felt hat special starting Monday, September 7. Phone 127.

Here's a contrast that is not likely to become very pleasant: Five months ago donations to help feed the more unfortunate of this community were received with a hearty welcome. Now we can vote bonds—and within another five months the call will go out again for help from the Red Cross or any other welfare organization that will be fool enough to help those who fail to help themselves by economizing.

Comedy 'Oh, Professor,' Will Feature Beautiful Chorus

Just what the only unmarried girl-shy but willing college professor on the campus will do under certain conditions is one of the amusing incidents in "Oh! Professor", musical comedy to be presented in the high school gym-auditorium Wednesday evening, auspices of the local Lions Club. Just what the audience will do when a dozen or more chorus girls appear in the opening number and subsequent choruses is not so much of a problem. Chorus girls have a way of "clicking" with audiences.

The story goes that one college lad, Steve Crandall, has an inferiority complex as far as women are concerned. His roommate, Bob Davis, tries to help him out by sending for his brother, Dave, who dolls up in a Spanish dancing costume "just to fool the boys".

Bob's sister shows up at the wrong moment also, impersonating beautiful Rita May, the Spanish show girl and Steve is gradually drawn into an awful mess with his wimmin'.

The professor is bowled over also, but finally finds modern girls a bit too strenuous, and withdraws in favor of a more matronly, "quiet" type. What happens to Helen, Steve Crandall's real girl, to girl-shy Steve, and to the Professor and Bob, makes an interesting climax to an unusually clever college comedy sketch.

The cast includes the following:

Steve Crandall, bashful college boy Louis Walker
Bob Davis, his roommate Art Wallhausen
Dave Davis, Bob's brother Bob Nicholson
Professor Bangs, Sissy Professor Kemper Bruton
Chink, chinese servant, Benny Topper Emanuel Schorle
Policeman Emanuel Schorle
Wilhemina, Bob's sister Billy Ruth Sears
Helen, a visitor Ann Beck
Mrs. Bumboard, matron of college Cornelia Randall
Avonelle, her small daughter Catherine Ann Cook
College girls and boys: Nana Belle Wilson, Virginia Mount, Ruth Felker, Virginia Baker, Charlotte Dover, Mary Emma Powell, Virgin Swain, Virginia Randol, Robert Mow, Robert Nicholson, Robert Dempster, Albert Humphrey, Arthur Walker Green, Charles Cook, Daniel Malone and Noland White.
Chorus girls—Ruth Ward Powell, Neva Mae Taylor, Bertie Sutterfield, Hazel Young, Ada Jean Bowman, Marjorie Mow, Margaret Mitchell Camille Bloomfield.
Little College Chorus—Dick Swann, Jr., Shadburn Old, John Russell Felker, Stephen Applegate, Mary Emma Allen, Mary Emma Donald, Margaret Anthony, Mary Applegate, Miriam White.

Washington, August 28.—The agriculture department announced today that farmers intend to plant 12 per cent less winter wheat next fall than was harvested this year.

HUBERT BOYER IN MINOR CRACKUP SUNDAY

Hubert Boyer, pilot and Hildreth Dill escaped injury Sunday afternoon when the new plane nosed over into a fence while landing. The prop was cracked and one wing slightly damaged. Boyer attributed the accident to a sudden, unexpected cross wind.

AUTO WRECKS POPCORN STAND SUNDAY NIGHT

The Snowflake popcorn stand operated by Marshall Cox on Front street was temporarily wrecked Sunday night, when a car gliding in to the curb struck a protruding corner, smashed a glass panel and otherwise damaged the framework. Repairs were made Monday morning and by nightfall young Schuppert, operator, was again turning out sackfuls of tasty corn.

H. C. Blanton left for Bay City, Mich., Saturday, where he will join his family. They expect to arrive in Sikeston Wednesday afternoon.

Walter Kendall, chief of police, brought to The Standard office Thursday morning eight peaches that tipped the scales at slightly over six pounds. The smallest one measured 10½ inches in circumference, while the largest measured 12 inches. They were sprouts that came up from seed thrown out in the back yard. They were extra fine.

Maxine and Pauline Husher gave a party Friday night in honor of their cousins, Max and Dale Tindler, of Poplar Bluff. The guests were Lillian Feltner, Lloyette Feltner, Mary E. Montgomery, Charline Gardner, June Marshall, Dixie Lee Sander, Helen Johnson, Freda Lankford, Verna Dubois, Lela Story, Billy Gardner, Murray Lynn Farris, Buddy Lankford, Bruce Lewis, Merrill McKinney, Ben F. Carroll, Fred Jones, Layton Finley and Dale and Max Tindler. Games were played and refreshments served.

WOOD MILL ACCIDENT ENDS IN DEATH

James Shipley, 29 years old, workman in a lumber mill at New Madrid, died in the Emergency Hospital Sunday noon from injuries received last Thursday when a piece of wood crashed through Shipley's left leg. Blood poisoning developed rapidly and was the direct cause of death.

The body was prepared for burial at the Welsh Undertaking Parlor and removed to Dyersburg, Tenn., Sunday evening in the Welsh ambulance. Services were to be conducted at Miston, Tenn., about 15 miles from Dyersburg, Monday afternoon with interment in Friendship Cemetery.

Shipley is survived by an estranged wife and twins, two years old, all of Miston.

FUCHS WINS $7500 SLANDER SUIT

A jury in Circuit Court Saturday found in favor of the defendant in the case of Bob Grigsby vs. Ed Fuchs, mayor of Sikeston, alleging slander and asking for damages of $7500. Roger Bailey represented Fuchs and Milo Gresham handled the case for Mr. Grigsby.

Grigsby, farmer near Miner Switch, was formerly a tenant on one of the Fuchs farms. A difference of opinion arose over division of crops. During the altercation, Grigsby claims, Fuchs called him a "damned thief" and slander proceedings were filed.

The many friends of Mrs. Emma Kendall will be pleased to hear that she is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. John Malone, who have been visiting in Detroit, Mich., have returned home. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Malone, who have been living in Detroit, came with them and will make their home in Cape Girardeau.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Phillips and son, E. L. Phillips, all of Trenton, Mo., visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Phillips of this city. The out-of-town visitors accompanied the local family on a camping trip to Current River at Doniphan, where Mr. Phillips maintains membership in a clubhouse.

From Our Exchanges

Had a hard time explaining things to our wife last week when some anonymous contributor sent in a piece of poetry. The fact that the envelope was addressed to the office instead of to the editor, personally, is about all that saved us. The opening line was, "I had such a sweet dream about you, Oh how I wish it was true". Two other portions of the verse were, "I drew you to my beating heart, and it seemed to be we could never part. I whispered to you if we could wed, and you looked at me and nodded your head". We wish these anonymous writers would hand us their copy instead of sending it by mail. Our curiosity is all worked up now as to what age the author of the poetry might be and whether she is good looking. Now if a man wrote it, we'd say the dream was a nightmare. —Shelbina Democrat.

If the Bloomfield Vindicator has its way, Bloomfield may soon get out from under the yoke of a utility company that is supplying power to that city. The Vindicator last week expressed the desire, editorially, that some way could be found before long, whereby something like $15,000 which the city now pays out annually to the utility company, could be kept right at home, instead of being sent away. The Vindicator also expresses the belief that the number of municipally owned plants is destined to grow within the next few years "unless the utility companies lower their rates and are satisfied with smaller profits". No doubt but what Bloomfield could do as well with a municipal plant, as Malden and other Southeast Missouri cities are doing. —Malden Merit.

Our standards of morals are rapidly being adjusted to meet new conditions. One evidence appears at Salem College at Winston Salem, N. C. College authorities have recently issued a bulletin stating that girl students will be permitted to smoke who have their parents' permission. The bulletin says, "smoking is first a home problem". When a staid commonwealth, a stronghold of intolerance a few years ago, makes concessions such as this, we would not be astonished at a Baptist taking communion with a Presbyterian, the Jews eating pork, or the Catholics advocating birth control. —Jackson Cash-Book.

The Gazette is proud of our new postoffice building. All good things come to those who wait, and we've been waiting a long time. It will be a nice home for the new Democratic postmaster who will take charge after the election of Roosevelt as president in 1932. —West Plains Gazette.

We heard one of our hard-boiled Republicans exclaim, "Well, great God!" as he opened his Globe-Democrat last Friday morning. Thinking something had happened to the Lindberghs or that Mabel had secured another Farm Board loan for the wine interests of California, we inquired the why of his consternation, to which he soulfully replied: "Hoover has appointed another commissioner". —Monroe Appeal.

There are only two times in which some merchants' stores are advertised. One is when they are opening them up, and the other is when they are being sold out to satisfy their creditors. —Malden Merit.

A bird with thumbs on its wings is reported by a scientific expedition in Africa. In pre-Volstead days, incautious imbibers in the United States claimed to have seen brindle elephants with green horns, and the like, but prohibition has forced us to give Africa first place as a land of wonders.

The times is coming soon when there will be no guesswork about what a radio broadcasting station puts on the air after complaint has been made of its programs. The Federal Radio Commission is now testing out various types of recording devices which will make verbatim transcriptions of programs from stations under investigation for violating radio regulations. The apparatus is portable and records can be made from any receiving set. Then if there is any dispute as to whether or not offensive language or other objectionable features were broadcast, from any station, an exact reproduction can be furnished.—Ex. And they will about get that perfected and we will have television and they will have to get a machine to record pictures that are sent out on the air. Wonder if they will broadcast as many bathing beauty pictures as we see every day in the papers. If they do, the radio will again jump into high popular favor. —Shelbina Democrat.

WASHINGTON DISPLAYED GOOD JUDGMENT IN SELECTING CABINET

Nothing in Washington's whole life gives stronger evidence of his character and ability than the splendid judgment which he displayed in selecting the first Cabinet of the United States.

To the selection of these men he gave the most careful thought, and succeeded in forming a Cabinet which, in the opinion of many, has never been equaled for sheer ability. Washington's first Cabinet consisted of Alexander Hamilton, Secretary of the Treasury; Thomas Jefferson, Secretary of State; Henry Knox, Secretary of War; and Edmund Randolph, Attorney General.

The four nominations were made to the Senate in September, 1789, and they were confirmed without delay.

In selecting his Cabinet, Washington sought for capable and efficient men whose usefulness had stood the test of some experiences in Colonial, State or Continental places. He seems to have been especially desirous of obtaining tried and worthy men to fill the various posts under his control.

There can be no doubt that the claims of friendship played an important part in directing Washington's search for men to assist him. Intimately and confidentially associated with him as these men must be it was very natural that Washington decided finally to make two of the four appointments under consideration from among his personal friends.

The appointments of Hamilton and Knox were determined upon by President Washington easily. Both men were on terms of very close intimacy with the President and both men were very well equipped to fill the posts assigned to them. Associated with him in the Revolution, they had kept up a correspondence with him at intervals ever since.

Randolph, a capable lawyer of the day, seemed to Washington to be a happy choice for the appointment as the first Attorney General, which, incidentally, was then only a part-time position.

The appointment of Jefferson was distinctly the most interesting of the four appointments. John Jay was what might be called a logical candidate to head the country's foreign affairs. According to the best available authority on Jay's life, Washington gave to Jay the choice of "any office he might prefer". And so, at his own request, Jay was named Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. This decision of Jay probably led Washington to the consideration of Thomas Jefferson.

Landing at Norfolk, Va., in November, 1789, Jefferson for the first time heard of his appointment. For over two months following, he hesitated about accepting it. At the renewed and urgent request of Washington, and assured that the public was eager for his acceptance of the position, Jefferson finally gave his consent to take up his new task in New York City on March 22, 1790.

It was not until May, 1790, with Jefferson, Hamilton, Knox and Randolph in New York City, that the first full Cabinet meeting was really held.

In addition to his Cabinet, Washington often consulted with others on important problems facing the Government. He often conferred with the Vice President, John Adams, and Chief Justice Jay, as well as with his Secretaries.

It was not until 1791 that the meetings of Washington and his Secretaries were termed "Cabinet Meetings". In 1792 there were several clear records of such, Thomas Jefferson having left some account of two such meetings. In 1793, the meetings were frequent, especially so after Washington's arrival in Philadelphia on April 17. The most notable of these was the meeting of April 19, at which the issuance of the so-called Neutrality Proclamation was unanimously agreed upon. Within a month from that time Jefferson referred to the meetings of the advisors as occurring "almost every day".

The crisis with France in 1793 enforced the necessity of frequent meetings on the part of the President's best qualified advisors.

To trace in detail the events of Washington's administration would be to write the history of the country during that period. Looking at the Cabinet, however, as it stood in the beginning, there can be no question as to the wisdom of Washington's selection and the great abilities which were thus brought together for the administration and construction of a great national government.

FOLK RUSH WOODLAND DELLS TO ESCAPE THOSE DECIBELS

Call it the "primitive urge if you want to, but science has another name for the attraction which is drawing more campers and tourists into the nations forests and parks this year than ever before.

Up-to-the-minute officials of the United States Forest Service are attributing this rush for woodland retreats in search of rest and relaxation to the low volume of decibels found there.

Decibel is the scientific name for a unit of sound as measured by the acoustimeter, an invention developed in radio research and now being employed to alarming advantage by city noise commissions.

"Thus we find," sa the scientifically-inclined foresters, "that the tired business man whose nerves are frayed by the noise in his office with its volume of 57 decibels, or by the pounding of streets cars and the tooting of taxi horns on Main Street with its 75 decibels, or by family discussions which may have much the same effect as an airplane's 115 decibels, hies himself off to some woodland dell and there, surrounded by the muted notes of birds, the sighing of swaying branches and the muffled sound of flowing water, finds peace and content in an atmosphere of only 12 decibels".

BEAT SUMMER HEAT. PROBLEM OF HOUSEWIFE

The wise housewife takes advantage of the occasional cool day to cook a large piece of meat which she can use to prepare leftover without the expenditure of much time or effort. The National Lie Stock and Meat Board give you some suggestions which you will find make preparing summer meals easy.

Cooking a whole or a half ham provides meat dishes for several days. A roast of lamb, beef, veal, or pork may be utilized in any number of quickly prepared main dishes. A pot-roast of beef or veal, or a beef or calf's tongue are other possibilities.

Meat salads are always acceptable as the piece de resistance of the summer meal. With them may be served one or two warm vegetables, such as creamed potatoes, peas, green corn.

Creamed meat dishes may be made ready and assembled just before serving time.

A mousse of ham or veal, molded in large or small molds, is nice for the company luncheon or informal dinner, because it may be prepared early and forgotten about until time to serve. A well-seasoned sauce such as horseradish sauce adds zest.

A simple but a very attractive way of serving left-over meat is to slice it and arrange on a garnished platter. Tomatoes or green peppers may be filled with left-over meat and baked.

1 chopped pimento
¼ cup bread crumbs
¼ cup tomato sauce
1 teaspoon salt
Green peppers
Scoop out peppers. Drop in salted boiling water and boil for 15 minutes. Cook diced celery in butter until tender. Mix with other ingredients and fill the pepper cups. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and place in a shallow pan containing a half inch of water. Bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes.

Other meat dishes:

Jellied Ham Loaf
2 cups minced boiled ham
1½ tablespoons gelatine
4 tablespoons cold water
1½ cups boiling stock
¼ cup chopped beet pickles
¼ teaspoon white pepper
¼ teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon onion juice
2 hard-cooked eggs

Soak gelatine in cold water for five minutes. Dissolve in boiling stock. Add seasonings. Combine the ham, pickles, and gelatine mixture. Decorate a ring mold with slices of hard-cooked egg. Turn in the ham and chill. Unmold and fill center with mixed vegetable salad.

Molded Lamb Tongues

Cook lamb tongues until tender in hot water to which salt, a few celery seeds, and 1 small onion have been added as seasonings. When done, cool, remove skin and slice and reserve the liquid in which cooked. Strain this liquid and for each pin add 1 tablespoon gelatine. Chill a mold and pour in a little of the stock, add a layer of the sliced tongue, then more stock, and repeat until the meat is all used. The meat should be covered with stock. Allow several hours for the jelly to set. Unmold.

Lamb in Mint Jelly

Cut fine one bunch of mint, cover with vinegar, and add sugar to taste. Let stand over night. Rub through a fine sieve and add 2 cups of white stock. Tint green with vegetable coloring. Add ½ package gelatine which has been soaked in cold water and dissolved in hot water. Add 1

The phrase "springing up like a mushroom overnight" has some truth, since mushrooms grow at a phenomenal rate during moist, hot seasons. This is partly explained by the fact that much of the tissue forms before the fungus breaks through the surface of the ground. Then the fungus tissue absorbs water quickly and expands very rapidly in wet weather.

Malaria: Its Cause and Prevention

IT'S CAUSE AND PREVENTION

By State Board of Health of Missouri

4. Life Cycle of Mosquitoes

All mosquitoes pass through a life cycle of four stages. The names of these various changes in the order of their appearance are, the egg, the larva or wiggletail, the pupa or tumbler, and the winged adult stage. The first three of these periods are passed in water. The female mosquito lays her eggs on the surface of water, being careful to select that which is quiet and undisturbed. These eggs are laid singly or in rafts, depending on the species. The eggs of the Anopheles (malaria) mosquito appear singly, whereas the other types are in the form of rafts. The latter have been known to contain as many as 200 eggs.

Water is a necessity and without it there can be no mosquitoes. However, the different types prefer different sources of water. For instance, the Culex or harmless mosquito will lay her eggs any place—a time can, a rain barrel, a sewer or even a cuspitor. The Anopheles, on the other hand, desires clean water and deposits her eggs near the edge of a slow moving stream and an animal tracks near the bank of a ditch or stream.

After floating about for a day the eggs hatch into larvae or wiggletails. It is doubtful if there is any one who, at some time or other, has not seen these floating in a rain barrel or pail of stagnant water. Here again will be noted a dissimilarity between the various types. The larvae of the harmless mosquitoes hang head downward into the water with their bodies at an angle to the surface, whereas the Anopheles float on the surface. When the latter are disturbed they dart across the water, while the Culex dive toward the bottom. The wiggletails use as a food supply the disintegrated organic matter in the water and breathe through tubes located in their tails.

This stage lasts from 5 to 10 days and then they become pupae or tumblers. These are comma-shaped and have been given the name of Tumblers because when disturbed, they bob around in the water. At this stage they are without mouths so take no nourishment. The breathing tubes are now situated in their heads and have the appearance of horns.

The pupa stage is short and after a day or two the back of the pupa splits open and the adult winged mosquito emerges upon the surface of the water. It rests here only long enough to dry its wings and then flies off.

The entire life cycle of the mosquito requires a period of about 7 days. However, weather conditions play a large part, and warm weather is much more conducive to growth.

Why Does The G. O. P. Slander Millions Of Us?

Seeking to fasten upon the American people a bureaucracy that is only one step removed from Communism, the Republican national committee has the colossal nerve to announce to the nation that the question to be decided at the 1932 election will be "Soviet or Republic"?

The committee is merely carrying out the Hoover plan of calling everyone who disagrees with the President a "Communist".

Thus, if you believe in public ownership of power, you are a dangerous red.

If you believe in justice for farmers, insurance against unemployment or lower taxation, you are getting money from Moscow.

If you believe in tariff revision, to stop the exodus of American factories to foreign countries, you are a "Communist".

The Republican party hasn't a chance in the world to remain in power after the next general election. It knows it—and, desperate, its power-drunk leaders become frantic.

No lie is too silly to be told; no slander too contemptible to be spread; no libel on millions of non-Republican Americans too disgraceful to be broadcast.

The millions of real Americans who, next year, are NOT going to vote for Hoover, and who are NOT going to vote for Republican candidates, will resent with all their force the filthy slanders hurled at them by Hoover and his committee satellites.

We have had filthy politics in this nation before.

But we seldom have had the spectacle of a despairing political party, vainly trying to stem the deluge, descending so low as to brand millions of honest men and women as "communists" and "reds", simply because these men and women will not fall down and worship the god of Mellonism, the god of insanely high tariffs, the god of Private Plunder of National Resources, the god of Injustice.

The idea of the Republican national committee, that it can scare us with a bogey-man of 'Communism', is fundamentally funny. After what this nation has gone thru for two years, under the divinely-guided Republican party, nothing can scare it.

If the Republican party thinks it can win in 1932 with such a bogey-man, it is due for the surprise of its life.—San Diego Herald.

PUMPKIN PIE IS VERY POPULAR DESSERT FOR FALL

From the time the first golden pumpkin makes its appearance until the last one has been taken out of storage, there's no more universally popular dessert than pumpkin pie. Although canned pumpkin is available at all times and makes excellent pies, pumpkin pie enjoys a definite season, and is most appreciated during the Fall months.

Everybody has his own very definite ideas of just what a pumpkin pie should be from color to taste. Different sections of the country follow their own traditions in the making of pumpkin pie, making it too dear a dish to be treated lightly.

If you use canned pumpkin, cook it over a low fire until perfectly dry. Fresh pumpkin can be baked, steamed or stewed until tender and dry. Baking is perhaps the simplest method, for the pumpkin is merely cut in halves, seeds removed and baked, cut side down in a dripping pan until tender. Then scrape from shell and force through a ricer or colander.

How to Stew Pumpkin

To stew, wash pumpkin and cut in narrow strips. Remove seeds and pare off yellow shell. Cut in cubes and put into a heavy aluminum or iron kettle. Add just enough water to prevent burning before pumpkin begins to cook. Cover and cook over a good fire until pumpkin is dry. It takes five or six hours to stew a pumpkin. When dry, rub through a colander or ricer.

One cup sifted pumpkin, 3-4 cup light brown sugar, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon molasses, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 egg, 2 cups rich milk.

Mix and sift flour, spices and salt and add to sugar. Mix and stir into pumpkin. Add molasses and egg slightly beaten with milk. Turn into a deep pie dish lined with plain pastry and bake one hour. The oven should be hot for the first ten minutes to set the crust. Reduce heat and bake at 350 degrees F for 50 minutes. The rule will fill an eight-inch pie pan.

Fluffy Pumpkin Pie
Three-fourths cup sifted pumpkin, 3-4 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 1-2 cups milk, 1-2 cup cream, 1-2 teaspoon ginger, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Beat yolks of eggs with sugar, salt and spices. Add pumpkin, milk and cream and mix thoroughly. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and fold into first mixture. Turn into a pie dish lined with pastry and bake as in other recipe.

If a highly spiced pie is liked more spices can be added to either rule.

Squash often is substituted for pumpkin and while it makes an excellent pie, the flavor is not the same.

Loosely fitted long sleeves are most becoming on fishy arms. If open at the wrists they are graceful and comfortable. To make the arm seem longer and more slender, use bound slashes, lengthwise bands of materials, rows of buttons, etc. Sleeves gathered into a tight cuff with a puffed affect should be avoided by the stout woman.

SHOULD ORDER FINGERLINGS BY SEPT. 20 SAYS DEPARTMENT

Eighty-two plantings, averaging approximately 1500 native game fish in each planting have been made in public fishing waters of the State during the last three weeks, according to G. M. Kirby, chief of hatcheries of the Missouri Game and Fish Department. Many of the fish were four to six inches in length.

Applications for fish to be distributed this season can be accepted for only a short time yet, Mr. Kirby states. In explanation, he says:

"The Game and Fish Department has, for a number of years, exercised its forces toward the end that the largest number of fish applications received annually are taken care of or filled during the current year in which they are received. It has successfully accomplished this in most years."

"It is obvious to all, however, that, in following the Federal and other States' Game and Fish Departments' custom, the Missouri department must have a definite date marking the close of the current year. September 20 was adopted some years ago as the closing date. Applications received after that date will necessarily be placed with applications for the succeeding year."

The Department of Agriculture is planning experiments in crossing hardy Afrikaner cattle from southern Africa with native beef breeds, hoping to develop a breed that can endure drought and heat.

Repair the corn crib and granary, clean up rubbish that may harbor rats, and rid the farm of these pests now—and you will avoid damage to stored grain and food this fall and winter. Success in campaigns against rats depends largely on co-operation in destroying them on all the infested farms in a community at the same time. Rodent-control specialists advise mixing enough bait for the entire community at one place and using it on the same day on all infested farms. The specialists say that red squill—a poison deadly to rats and mice but comparatively harmless to cats, dogs and other animals—is one of the best rat poisons. Fresh fish, ground in a meat chopper, is an attractive bait for this purpose. Meat, cereals, and fish mixed separately but put out at the same time to give rats a choice of food will give best results.

No Soot or Smoke

The SERVANETTE in operation is sootless and smokeless as new fuel is constantly fed to the fire from below—automatically—and the proper mixture of air and fuel insures the complete consumption of all volatile gases as they rise through the hot fuel bed, not away from it in the form of smoke and soot, as in hand firing.

No Ashes

The SERVANETTE converts every heat unit. The temperature of the combustion chamber is from 500 to 1000 degrees higher than is possible with hand firing. Combustion is complete and all gases, carbon and coke are consumed, leaving little or no ash. The ash, if any, is fused into an occasional clinker and may be easily removed.

Exact Temperature Desired Regardless of the Weather

Where a SERVANETTE is installed in the home, the fire is automatically regulated at all times to the desired temperature by thermostatic control. The SERVANETTE gives 24 hours service every day. In those hard-heat days of approaching fall and spring, as well as the bitter days of winter, a SERVANETTE can make your home just as comfortable as a day in May.

YOU SHOULD ENCOURAGE NEIGHBOR AND TENANTS TO DRY SOME VEGETABLES

The Red Cross feels that they will get a far heavier call on them for food and money in the cities next winter and consequently will give little to the rural sections. In addition that we have a wonderful food supply this year, this should be preserved in some manner. Your probably have fixed yourself for a supply, but if you have tenants on your farm who are not laying up a food supply you may rest assured you will be the first ones that they will come to asking of your aid. It is an essential thing for you to encourage these people to dry some fruit and vegetables. On the other hand you may have a neighbor who has food available but who are not drying it. Probably in some way you might suggest to dry some food for next winter who will probably appeal to you for aid.

Directions for cooking dried fruits and vegetables may be obtained by writing to R. L. Furry, County Extension Agent, Benton, Mo.

LAD SHOT THROUGH CHEST STILL LIVES

Daniel Bush, 18 years old, of near Noxall, can lay claim to having a charmed life. He will be discharged from the Emergency Hospital Tuesday afternoon alive, and more or less well, although a .32 caliber, steel jacketed bullet drilled its way thru his left breast just over the heart. The bullet lodged under the skin of the lad's back, lower left side, was removed by Dr. H. M. Kendig late Friday night.

Bush explained that he had accompanied his girl to a church services conducted by the Pentecostal congregation at Noxall and was on his way home, when the weapon was accidentally discharged. His girl friend was with him at the time.

The young man probably owes his life to the fact that the bullet was made of hard steel instead of being a soft lead or "split nose" type pellet. Pistol experts here state that the former type drills a "clean" hole, whereas the latter spread out as they penetrate in soft flesh.

Mrs. Vess Oliver of New Madrid is getting along nicely at the Emergency Hospital here.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leonard Chaney, Routh 1, Skeston on August 21. The youngster has been named Roy Leonard, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Greenlee, 503 Northwest Street, are the parents of a baby girl, Edna, born last Wednesday evening.

AS I SEE IT

By I'm About Town

Most of us ordinary mortals some time or other get discouraged over being just ordinary, commonplace citizens. Nothing seems to set us apart from the herd, and no one bothers whether we arise at four, six or seven o'clock, eat oatmeal or toast for breakfast and in general we are left alone to live our commonplace lives.

There are times, however, when we commoners can arise and give thanks for being sound from the neck up. Some fellow may be exceedingly accomplished in some manner of doing his job, but cracked mentally otherwise, lacking entirely that moral stability which society has found best for the maintenance of the group.

A bird with thumbs on its wings is reported by a recent African expedition. At the present rate of development in hitch hiking, the next three or four generations may find thumbs protruding from noses of human beings.

They stand all day, patiently thumb, thumbing their way, infesting highways east, north, south or west.

The death of H. P. Re of Coldwater, Mich., inspired a newspaper reporter to write an article on this short name. He supposed that Re of Indianapolis, E. Py of Newcastle, was the shortest known, and so wrote his story. It has since developed that there are others, including F. Ax Ind., J. Ur of Torrington, Conn., and the shortest of all, A. A. of Chicago.

We are pleased to report that little Tomy Roberts, who had his tonsils removed recently, is coming along fine.

DAVIS ANSWERS CLAIM OF "FLAG POLE" AGENTS IN NEW MADRID CO. DISTRICTS

By Milus R. Davis, County Supt.

Miss Vivian Hart returned last Friday from the Murray Teachers' College of Kentucky, where she has just finished 12 weeks' work. Murray has two summer terms of six weeks each.

Beulah Parker, York and Marcelet Kinder, New Madrid, have enrolled in the M. S. T. A. since our last writing.

Teachers having delinquents who average missing as much as one day per week are required by law to report their names monthly to the attendance officer, O. E. Mitchell.

In case any director or teacher wants a special drive to secure better attendance, we would suggest that you write a few lines to the attendance officer or county superintendent, and we will make a special effort to help you.

The State superintendent informs us that some flag pole agents in the State are telling the directors that their school will not receive any State aid unless they purchase a flag. Of course this is untrue.

We do have a new law requiring a flag to be displayed at each school, but a dollar flag slipped into a bracket over the outside door, or hung on a sassafras pole, will suffice. If a district is able, it shows a fine patriotic spirit to float Old Glory over the school yard and it makes our heart beat a little faster to gaze upon this precious symbol, but we doubt the wisdom of spending much money in this way when the school needs books and equipment.

At our Plan Meeting, a committee of city superintendents present submitted the following names as delegates from this county to the Southeast Missouri Teachers Association: Ralph McCullough, G. D. Englehart, L. B. Hoy, G. E. Collins, C. E. Pappillier, Herbert Illres, W. A. Shy and Milus R. Davis.

The following alternates were chosen for each of the above delegates, respectively: Mabel Mecklen, L. Zimmer, Nettie Jackson, Hunter Miller, Owen J. Taul, J. W. Miller, Elizabeth Hoehn, Oren S. Liley.

Question (from a rural consolidation): We have voted to pay tuition of our students who wish to attend high school. Will we be reimbursed for tuition money paid out?

Answer: After September 14, it is not necessary to pay any tuition at all. The high school where the student attends will apply for this tuition next spring, to the State, and will receive same next August.

Question: Do we get $3 from the State for each pupil transported to a high school outside of the district?

Answer: No provision is made for transporting pupils to schools outside of the district. But many pupils are providing transportation for their pupils who wish to attend high school. This cost is paid out of the incidental fund. The $3 per child applies only to pupils (both grade and high school) transported within the district a distance of two miles or more.

A quadruple murder in Michigan has given impetus to the movement for the restoration of the death penalty in that State. The prisoners were captured and tried in a single day. It appears that Michigan can set an example in the way of speedy execution of justice. The sight of three men paying the penalty for their crime, within twenty-four hours from the time they were taken, will be longer remembered than the execution of the same men after the lapse of so long a period that the crime is forgotten. If Michigan has a law against murder that can be enforced with the quickness of the thunder bolt, so great a step in advance has been made that there is little room to quarrel about the complete adequacy of the penalty exacted.

Interment was made in the family burial lot at O'Bryan's Landing.

Felt hat special. Watch for Faultless Cleaners felt hat special starting Monday, September 7. Phone 127. Late-maturing birds in the poultry flock are usually poor producers. At the U. S. Animal Husbandry Experiment Farm at Beltsville, Md., two years ago, the Rhode Island Reds that began to lay in September and October averaged 212 and 209 eggs respectively for their first year, but those starting to lay in January laid an average of only 161 eggs in the year. Similar records in other years showed similar results. When 'moth balls' are composed entirely of naphthalene, the most common ingredient, no ingredient statement is required by the Federal Food and Drug Administration to appear on the label, although the administration sees no objection to the statement, "Active Ingredient 100 per cent". But if they consist of naphthalene and an inert ingredient, the label must bear a statement to show clearly the presence of the inert substance.

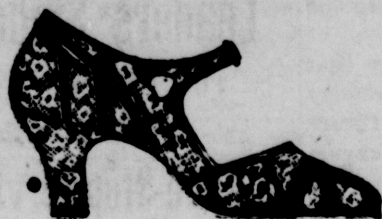

Is your boy in his "teens" always hungry? Scientists say it is quite normal for him to crave more food, perhaps, than anyone else in the family. Because of his great activity he requires almost as much energy food as a grown man doing very heavy, active work, and because he is growing very rapidly, he needs almost one and a half times as much food that supplies him with protein and minerals, as a fully grown man. Give him plenty of milk, eggs, fresh fruits and vegetables in addition to the energy foods that are usually present in his diet, such as bread and butter, cereals, potatoes, cake and pastry.

Mrs. King accompanied them to Equality, Ill., where Mr. Moore and Mrs. King will visit with their aged mother, who is 96 years old.

"Hoover Prosperity" is evidenced on every side and from every quarter. In the sixty years of my life, I've never read of so many suicides caused by financial trouble, nor so many farmers killing themselves because they were unable to meet their debts on account of the low price of farm produce. People howl about an overproduction. I know of families that haven't rour in their house because the men can't find work. Lots of fruit. Yes, but I have offered fruit to people that had nothing and they told me they had no cans nor sugar to put it up in. No work, nothing to buy with. This is all due to Republican prosperity.

Method of Preserving Corn And Fruit: The Evaporation Process Offers Cheap

By
R. L. Furry, County Agent

Dry your fruits and corn if you do not have cans in which to place them. The cost of cans is keeping many from putting up some of our surplus crops. From now on we may dry peaches, apples and corn.

The drying process is easily done either with a stove or a low roof or a low frame covered with steel roofing. It is best to lay down old sheets or other cloth material and scatter the fruit, etc., on this sheet, then put a cheesecloth of similar material over to keep away flies and dust. The steel roof is better as it gets hotter in the sun but wood roof or platform may be used. By having fruit on a sheet it is easily taken up at night to keep off dew and also in case of rain.

The faster and better process is to use the stove method. Make frames two feet square out of 1x4 wood material and tack screen on the bottom. Put material in this about 1 inch deep, set this on four bricks on top of stove in which there is a slow fire going. Other trays may be added to this first tray as high as convenient on the stove. The bricks allow air circulation but do not allow bottom tray to get too hot, as 160 degrees is maximum temperature to use in drying. In case an oil stove is used, put a steel or metal plate over the burners, then put bricks on this and then trays as in coal or wood stove.

You may tell when fruit is dry enough by the following methods: break the piece in two and if you cannot squeeze moisture out, then, it should be flexible enough to roll and break in two, also when making a ball out of a handful it should fall apart and not stick together. About four hours is required by the stove method while a day or more will be required by the sun method.

Storage is best made in flour sacks and then suspend the sacks by a wire to help keep mice from bothering. By putting in a paper sack and then in a flour sack insects are better kept out.

Peaches

Break in halves and do not peel. In case of rather large peaches is better to quarter them. In using the stove method take care that not too much heat is used at first.

Apples

Apples should be peeled and cored. Cut into crescents having each crescent about one-half inch in thickness in center. On stove method do not get hot enough to start beads of juice to come to the surface.

Corn

Shuck and clean ears at regular roasting corn stage. Drop the ears in boiling water for exactly ten minutes. This sets the milk. After cooling the ears, cut the grains off with a sharp knife. Place in an inch layer for drying. Corn should be stirred occasionally to get uniform drying. Continue drying until the corn is hard and when cut, the cut surface will have a glossy appearance. Properly dried corn is really superior to canned corn and field corn may be used as well as sweet corn.

It may be well for you to encourage a neighbor who has been handicapped in canning their needs to do some drying as it is our least expensive methods of getting in food for next winter.

USE PEACHES AS FEE WHEN COUPLE ARE WED; GRAIN ALSO IS O. K.

Henderson, Ky., August 28.—Two bushels of peaches were Magistrate Louis Keiderer's fee Thursday for marrying Miss Mary Ferver of Chattanooga, Tenn., and George Lee Bugg, Evansville, Ind.

The fruit was turned over to the Welfare Association for distribution to the poor.

The couple was the first to take advantage of the magistrate's recent offer to perform marriage ceremonies for two bushels of grain or fruit during the depression.

Peaches retail here at 25 cents a bushel and may be picked in orchards for 10 cents a bushel.

There are three possible causes for tough pickles. One is a vinegar that is too strong. Another is too much salt in the solution. A third is too much sugar in the solution. Before you start pickling be sure you have reliable directions.

Smooth vetch is one of the best winter legumes for the South. In commercial plantings in the Cotton Belt it has made somewhat better winter growth than hairy vetch and is preferable to that variety. In the last few years a great deal of smooth-vetch seed has been imported under the name hair vetch, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A temperance organization in Kansas succeeded in getting a bootlegger in jail. The prisoner berated the leader of the organization for ingratitude. "You folks busted up the greatest temperance movement in this country for years," he said. "I was selling them fellows whiskey that was diluted as high as 75 per cent, and if you had left me alone another month I'd had 'em drinking pure water!"—Boston Transcript.

With every paper we take up and in nearly every conversation something is said about hard times, until we have come to wonder just what hard times really are. It is a sure thing that we have much more than our ancestors had, that it is easier to get, that the poorest of modern homes are better than the best of a hundred years ago, that the work required one hundred years ago to accomplish a given task, that same task could be done in one-fourth the time today. Our poor and needy we will always have with us through good times and bad, and taking everything into consideration things could be a whole lot worse, yes, a whole lot worse.—Shelbina Democrat.

STANDARD OIL HEAD CAPE FOUND SHOT

Cape Girardeau, August 27.—The body of C. B. Hoeller, special representative of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, was found near here this afternoon. Hoeller, who lived here, apparently shot himself.

Frank Hoeller, foreman in the International Shoe Factory here (Sikeston) is a nephew of the deceased. Funeral services were held in Cape Girardeau at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

According to local Standard Oil men, Hoeller was one of the 'biggest' men in Southeast Missouri, having full charge of all sales. His job consisted in assisting salesman in closing large contracts, and supervising sales in the entire district. He was very well liked.

Mr. Hoeller had no financial worries, as far as could be learned here, but brooded considerably over his health. His wife preceded him in death some time ago. Two daughters survive.

ADVANCE SCHOOL MAN BUYS CHEVROLET CO.

The following article was carried in the Globe-Democrat, Wednesday, under a Kansas City date line:

"A suit asking for $2,500,000 damages was filed here today against the General Motors Corporation by H. W. Lueddecke, superintendent of schools at Advance, Mo., who alleges his ideas for improvement of the Chevrolet automobile were used without recompense.

"Lueddecke's petition stated his suggestions were submitted in a letter June 27, 1927, and had to do with what he termed overbalancing of the automobile by the location of the steering apparatus, battery, starter and generator all on the left side. He said he had been forced to put in an extra spring leaf in the left front and rear springs of his car to equalize the balance.

"Lueddecke alleges the company made the changes shortly after receiving his suggestions. He asks that he be paid on the basis of 50c for every car manufactured since his ideas were submitted."

FORMER CHARLESTON MAN TO BE MARRIED SOON

Charleston, August 27.—Cards have been received by relatives and friends in this city announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Genevieve Harder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore J. Harder of St. Louis and Harry Louis Steele of St. Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Steele of this city.

The ceremony will take place at

St. Joseph's church, Meramec and Maryland, Clayton, on the morning of September 2, at 9 o'clock. Several relatives and friends from this city will attend the ceremony.

And now comes complaint of the young people in which people living near swimming places say that young people come out after midnight and swim without their swimming suits and stay till morning, and some of the said complainers get practically no sleep at all.—Shelbina Democrat.

GRANTED DIVORCE

According to the Scott County Democrat (Benton) August 27, a divorce decree and custody of children has been granted to Elsie Davis from Richard Davis.

From 1920 to 1930 farm tenancy increased in 41 States, decreased in 6, and did not change percentage in South Carolina. In the whole country the tenancy was 38.1 per cent in 1920 and 42.4 per cent in 1930.
